Congress Is Nearing Adjournment, Could Be Finished Today

Two Large Hurdles Remaining In Commie, Old Age Measures

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Congress tonight seemed really close to adjournment, and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said prospects are good for quitting tomorrow "if nothing unexpected happens."

There remained that "if". Knowland, the Republican Senate leader, once aimed for adjournment by July 31 but a lot of things happened to ruin that.

President Eisenhower, who likes a vacation as well or better than most people, still hoped to be able to leave Washington Saturday morning for Colorado.

Congress continued to make progress today, after getting over some big humps earlier in the week.

Foreign Aid Remains

By voice vote, the Senate passed and sent to Eisenhower a catchall supplemental appropriation bill of $1,659,000,000. It contains hundreds of items to supplement funds already voted for the fiscal year which began July 1.

This left only one big money bill still in dispute, an appropriation of approximately $2,800,000,000 for foreign aid. Both House and Senate have approved it in somewhat different detail, and a House-Senate Conference Committee continued at work to reach a compromise.

Two other hurdles that remained to be overcome were:

1. A bill to liberalize the old age pension system under social security. That, too, was in conference and differences were said to center on whether farm operators and professional people should be brought into the retirement system.

2. The bill to outlaw the Communist party and to penalize individual Communists. It has won favorable votes in both House and Senate, but administration leaders still were seeking some way to confine it to the party alone, not covering individuals.

Increase Borrowing Power

In other actions today:

A voice vote in the House sent Eisenhower a bill extending the unemployment compensation program to about four million additional workers, effective Dec. 31, 1955.

The Senate voted to increase the borrowing authority of the Commodity Credit Corp., which supports farm prices, to 10 billion dollars from 8½ billion. The bill went back to the House for action on a minor Senate amendment.

Legislation to forbid any government pension to Alger Hiss, or other government employes convicted of a felony, was passed by the House and sent to the President.

Democrats Rap Ike's Support In Illinois Race

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP)—Democratic leaders headed by Adlai E. Stevenson today rapped President Eisenhower's "great crusade" and his support of the Illinois Republican candidate for the Senate.

National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, one of the Democratic Day speakers at the Illinois Fair, renewed his demand for "the facts" about a government power contract he criticized Monday.

Stevenson, jibing at the "crusade" launched by the Republicans in 1952, said "Some mists are rising, and some myths are exploding."

"The Republicans are reaping, as they were bound to, the bitter harvest of disunion in their party and too many promises to the people," declared the 1952 presidential candidate.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), bidding for reelection went farther, declaring the crusade has "broken down" under the weight of GOP "irresponsibility and incapacity," and factionalism.

The Democratic orators, including former Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas, spoke before a crowd estimated by state police at 8,000.

Eisenhower will speak from the same platform tomorrow as the fair's Republican Day headliner.

The former Illinois governor, looking drawn after his illness last spring and his voice a bit hoarse, spoke with strong disapproval of Douglas' Republican opponent, Joseph T. Meek.

Stevenson described Meek as "enthusiastically in favor of peace, private enterprise and chicken for Sunday dinner, and irritably opposed to virtually every forward step toward these objectives."

Hoover Confirmed As Dulles Aide

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Another Herbert Hoover—this time the son of the former President—moved into a high government role today as the Senate unanimously confirmed him as undersecretary of state to succeed the retiring Walter Bedell Smith.

Less than 24 hours after the 51 - year - old petroleum engineer was nominated by President Eisenhower, he was approved for the No. 2 State Department post without debate by the Senate.

"Beedle" Smith, at 58 ending 43 years of government service, retires officially Oct. 1 to become executive vice president of the American Machine Foundry Co.

Red Skelton Hurt In Rehearsal Mishap

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP)—Comic Red Skelton suffered a brain concussion and a severe neck sprain during a rehearsal for his CBS TV show only half an hour before the program was due to go on the air, the studio said today.

A spokesman said Skelton, carrying on his head a hunk of balsa wood painted to look like a concrete block, charged toward a "breakaway" door which didn't break.

Delay Is Seen For Hearings On M'Carthy

Need Additional Time For Legal Preparation Senator Watkins Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The possibility arose today that Senate hearings of censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) may be delayed to permit more time for preparation.

"We still plan to open Aug. 30," said Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the special committee named to investigate the charges. "But we don't intend to force the legal staff to work under heavy pressure to meet that date."

In any event, he added, "one or two days would not be important."

Has Taken Longer

Watkins said it had taken longer than anticipated to find a committee counsel before senators finally settled on E. Wallace Chadwick, a Chester, Pa., attorney and former congressman.

Chadwick, meeting with reporters, said he would be ready to meet any deadline set by the committee, and pledged himself to "an impartial, objective job" of heading the legal end of the investigation.

Meanwhile, Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams told the committee he didn't want any fee from the Senate to act as McCarthy's counsel. Watkins said Williams rejected any part of the $10,000 the committee had set aside from its own money to provide McCarthy with counsel.

Chadwick, a former Republican member of the House in 1946 and 1948, held his first mass news interview. He brought along a prepared statement for reporters, but forgot to read it.

Never Met McCarthy

To newsmen's questions, the 67-year-old lawyer said he had never met McCarthy and that all he knew of the McCarthy controversy he had gleaned from the newspapers.

But he was quite firm about his attitude toward Gen. George Marshall, who has been denounced as a "traitor" by McCarthy.

He said that while he had no recollection of making a House speech in 1947 in praise of Marshall, if it was printed in the Congressional Record "no doubt I said it."

"If I didn't, I wish I had said it," he added, saying he was still an admirer of Marshall.

Clague OK'd By Senators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sens. Martin and Cuff, Pennsylvania Republicans, today gave informal clearance for White House appointment of Ewan Clague to a new four-year term as commissioner of labor statistics. They had been holding it up for several weeks.

Martin and Duff were consulted because Clague was last registered as a voter in Pennsylvania.

They had withheld clearance primarily because of Clague's "New Deal" associations and a complaint that he had said in a 1933 speech at Philadelphia that "I think the economic future of this country is state socialism."

Clague told a reporter he couldn't recall having made any such statement and doubted it "because I was against that sort of thing then and am now—I'm no socialist, nor a believer in state socialism."

Today, both Martin's and Duff's offices said they were withdrawing their objections and would not seek to block confirmation when and if President Eisenhower sends a nomination of Clague to the Senate.

Allies Buck French EDC Plan

U.S., Britain Backed By 5 Other Nations

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 18 (AP)—France's five European allies ranged solidly behind the United States and Britain tonight in resisting Pierre Mendes - France's plan to revamp the EDC.

This was reported as German, Belgian, Dutch, Italian and Luxembourg delegates assembled here for life-or-death talks on the European Defense Community project.

The American and British governments have made it plain to Mendes-France that his proposals for amending EDC will change its character and that his plan surprised and disappointed them. The United States and Britain are not in EDC but are in treaty relationship with it.

Now the West German, Italian, Dutch, Luxembourg and Belgian governments have done the same, either publicly or in private exchanges today in Brussels.

Mendes-France arrived today by train from Paris.

The French leader immediately went into informal session with Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak, who has set out to reconcile the differences between France and her friends over the powers and principles of the European Defense Community project.

It was understood that the French Premier at once served notice on Spaak that the choice facing the group is between his own plan for a new European army treaty or no EDC at all. The Mendes - France proposals would alter the whole basis of EDC as it was originally written.

The entire course of the West's European policies appeared to be at stake in the outcome of the two-day parley beginning here tomorrow between France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Italy.

If the EDC six fail to agree, the United States and Britain would be placed in a position of seeming to support the Germans at the expense of the French. For Washington and London already have agreed that they must, with or without France, give West Germany more freedom this fall and later give the restless Germans the right to rearm.

Wyoming GOP Picks Harrison

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 18 (AP)—Wyoming Republican voters chose the state's lone congressman, William Henry Harrison, to oppose a Democratic veteran of Washington politics, former Sen. Joseph C.O'Mahoney, in the Nov. 2 election for the U.S. Senate.

Harrison, 58, descendant of two Presidents, polled more votes than those for his three rivals combined for the GOP nomination in Tuesday's primary.

O'Mahoney was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for the long term. The 70-year-old Democrat was in the Senate for 19 years until his defeat in 1952. Harrison was elected to the House in 1950.

He and O'Mahoney also won their parties' nominations for the short term—election day to Jan.1 the remainder of the term to which the late Sen. Lester Hunt, a Democrat, was elected. Hunt killed himself in Washington last June.

Sen. Edward D. Crippa, a Republican appointed to serve until election day, did not run for election.

DOVER, Del., Aug. 18 (AP)—Herbert B. Warburton, 38 - year - old first-term congressman from Wilmington, was nominated for the U. S. Senate today by the Delaware Republican Convention. He will oppose incumbent Sen. J. Allen Frear (D-Del), in the November election.

Officials Work To 'Open' Books On Atom Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Officials of two government agencies worked overtime today to make good on President Eisenhower's unusual offer to open the books on his controversial proposal for new private power facilities in the Tennessee Valley area.

Spokesmen for the Budget Bureau and the Atomic Energy Commission said a hurried search of files is being made to extract a "full and complete" set of documents, with the hope they can be made public Friday.

The President said at his news conference yesterday that any reporter could go to the two agencies and get the complete record of still unconcluded negotiations between the AEC and a Southern utility group to build a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark.

The statement was in connection with charges by Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell that the President had ordered the contract over the protests of two government agencies and that one of his closest friends was interested. Mitchell's office said he referred to golfer Bobby Jones, a director of the Southern Co., which, with Middle South Utilities Inc. has offered to build the new 107-million-dollar plant to supply additional power to the Memphis, area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

The President defended Jones' integrity and said his action in this case, as in all non-security contractual relationships involving the United States, was open to the public.

U. S., Britain Reject France's Big Four Proposal

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 8 (AP)—The United States and Britain were reported tonight to have curtly rejected a French proposal for an early Big Four foreign ministers meeting with Russia.

A diplomatic informant said the U.S.-British turndown was phrased in some of the most blistering terms addressed to France by her Western allies in many years.

The exchange centered on Russia's recent call for a Big Four conference to reopen talks on a German peace settlement and for a parley of all European countries and the United States to negotiate an East-West security system.

This Pan - European security treaty was the Kremlin's counter to the Western project for a European army.

Doctor Claims His Innocence

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, proclaimed his innocence in a 900-word statement today and insisted "I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world."

The 30-year-old osteopath reviewed the entire case, starting with the July 4 murder and ending in his first degree murder indictment yesterday, and said in conclusion:

"I am not guilty."

His statement, which had no new information and took several slaps at Cleveland police authorities, was released by his brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard. Dr. Samuel Sheppard is locked up in the county jail, where he was returned following the indictment.

"I have told the police and other officials who questioned me all I know about the murder of my wife," Dr. Sheppard's statement said. "I have done this freely and willingly because I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world.

"I loved my wife; we rejoiced that we were to have a second child, all the scandal and the gossip to the contrary. We had even given our unborn child a name and had named it Stephen Allen. The last three months of our married life was perhaps among the happiest that we enjoyed together."

Leaders Agree On New Red Ban Compromise Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Congressional leaders were reported tonight to have reached agreement on compromise language designed to satisfy Senate Democrats who offered the bill to ban the Communist party.

The measure, tied up in a House-Senate conference committee, is one of the last remaining major bills blocking adjournment of Congress.

Senate Republican leaders refused to hint at the substance of the compromise they have reportedly arranged to satisfy Congress, which is on record in favor of making it a crime to belong to the Communist party, and the administration, which is fearful that language in the bill might render key portions of other anti-Communist laws ineffective.

But one key GOP leader in the Senate said he was certain the conference group, which has not had a formal meeting as yet, would come up with a solution tomorrow which would satisfy both Congress and the administration.

Another senator, who likewise declined to be quoted by name, said he understood the language change was designed among other things to protect beyond question the legal status of Justice Department prosecutions in the antisubversive field which are now pending.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said the conference committee, named earlier today, would not meet tonight. When newsmen asked if he could verify rumors that despite lack of a formal meeting, a "meeting of minds" had been achieved, Knowland replied:

"All I can say is we will have something tomorrow."

Order Four Divisions To Other Areas

Leaves Two American Units, Korea Republic Is Deeply Concerned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Defense Department announced today it will shift four divisions from Korea to other areas "where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States."

Advance reports that three U.S. divisions would be pulled out had already caused deep concern in Korea, where the republic's National Assembly unanimously voted to oppose it.

The withdrawal of four divisions would leave two American divisions, a British Commonwealth division and smaller units from other Allied nations in South Korea, together with 20 Republic of Korea divisions.

The official Pentagon announcement, which followed by only a few hours an official statement that "The Army has no knowledge of any early withdrawal," said:

Announce Plans

"The Defense Department announced today the plan to withdraw four U.S. divisions from Korea within the next several months. These divisions will be deployed to other areas where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States.

"The designation of the divisions to be withdrawn will be announced by the U.S. Army later.

"This withdrawal is in further implementation of the policy announced by President Eisenhower on Dec. 26, 1953."

That Eisenhower announcement said U.S. ground forces in Korea would be reduced "as circumstances warrant."

The official South Korean attitude, expressed by the National Assembly, was that the circumstances do not warrant any withdrawal now, in view of the continuing menace of Communist forces in North Korea.

Return To States

U.S. divisions now in Korea are the 1st Marines and the 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 24th and 25th Army divisions.

Informed Washington sources said two Army divisions and one regimental combat team will be brought back to the United States, along with another combat team now stationed in Japan. They said two of the divisions taken out of Korea probably would remain in the Pacific, one of them on Okinawa and one in Hawaii.

In supplying these reports, the sources did not designate which divisions might stay or which might go elsewhere.

Shifting of one division from Korea to Okinawa would bring its strength closer to the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, toward which the Chinese Communists have been talking with new belligerence of late.

The ROK National Assembly, in expressing deep concern over the withdrawal, said that if the United States persists and does not provide a new buildup of South Korea, this would "leave the United States solely responsible for whatever may happen in the Korean phase of the Communist drive toward Asian and world power."

Crime Orgy Of Four Youths Is Baffling Case To Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Crime experts threw up their hands today, horrified and completely baffled at a senseless rampage of murder and mayhem by four teen-aged boys from decent Brooklyn homes.

They apparently killed and maimed just for the thrill of it.

Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver admitted in court today that he doesn't know the answer. He said:

"There's no greed, no revenge and no sex behind these crimes. What makes this case even more baffling is the fact that these youngsters, to the best of our knowledge, came from good middle class homes.

"What makes these boys go berserk and commit two homicides is something we're going to look into."

In the space of 12 days, the boys reversed a life pattern of decency to embark on a frenzy of brutality. They allegedly beat and kicked one man to death, tortured another and threw him to his death in the East River, whipped young girls, and viciously beat almost anyone who crossed their path.

They roamed Brooklyn parks in search of prey. Their arrest yesterday came after a passerby saw a man beaten.

Their parents, aghast at the ugly story unfolded by police, could only sob in bewilderment, one after the other:

"But my boy is a good boy."

Three of the boys—Melvin Mittman, 17, Jerome Lieberman 17, and Robert Thrachtenberg, 15—were held without bail on homicide charges. The fourth, Jack Koslow, 18, was held without bail on assault charges.

Silver said the three boys fatally beat a destitute alcoholic Aug. 6 for no apparent reason.

Koslow was accused of taking part in other, nonfatal assaults. All four boys allegedly fell upon a derelict Negro asleep on a park bench Monday, burned his feet with cigarettes, beat him unconscious and tossed him into the river.

Since his body has not been found, the police have only the boys' word for this homicide and no murder charge has been placed in connection with it.

Heroic French Commander May Be Released By Reds

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, heroic French commander captured by the Communist-led Vietminh in the fall of the Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu, will be among 280 French officers to be freed in an exchange of prisoners, Peiping radio announced today.

The Communist broadcast gave no exact date, but dispatches from Hanoi said the exchange between the French and Vietminh was scheduled to begin today at Viet Tri on the Red River, 30 miles northwest of Hanoi, and at Sam Son on the coast 80 miles south of Haiphong.

In Paris, De Castries' overjoyed wife, Jacqueline, said she had been informed earlier by French officials that should the Reds release her husband he likely would be among the last to be exchanged.

"I would like to cry, to sing, to scream all together," she said when told of the Peiping broadcast heard in London.

French sources in Hanoi have estimated about 15,000 will be involved on both sides. The Peiping broadcast said 4,910 prisoners—4,590 Europeans and Africans and 320 Vietnamese—will be handed over to the French at Viet Tri.

De Castries, 52, was taken prisoner when Dien Bien Phu fell on May 7 after holding out for 57 days against numerically superior Communist-led forces. During the siege De Castries was promoted from colonel to brigadier general, an unprecedented thing in recent French military history. French governments previously held no promotion should be made while a battle was going on.

Taken prisoner with De Castries were about 7,000 officers and men, including foreign legionnaires, North Africans and Vietnamese.

They had withheld clearance primarily because of Clague's "New Deal" associations and a complaint that he had said in a 1933 speech at Philadelphia that "I think the economic future of this country is state socialism."

Clague told a reporter he couldn't recall having made any such statement and doubted it "because I was against that sort of thing then and am now—I'm no socialist, nor a believer in state socialism."

Today, both Martin's and Duff's offices said they were withdrawing their objections and would not seek to block confirmation when and if President Eisenhower sends a nomination of Clague to the Senate.

Allies Buck French EDC Plan

U.S., Britain Backed By 5 Other Nations

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 18 (AP)—France's five European allies ranged solidly behind the United States and Britain tonight in resisting Pierre Mendes - France's plan to revamp the EDC.

This was reported as German, Belgian, Dutch, Italian and Luxembourg delegates assembled here for life-or-death talks on the European Defense Community project.

The American and British governments have made it plain to Mendes-France that his proposals for amending EDC will change its character and that his plan surprised and disappointed them. The United States and Britain are not in EDC but are in treaty relationship with it.

Now the West German, Italian, Dutch, Luxembourg and Belgian governments have done the same, either publicly or in private exchanges today in Brussels.

Mendes-France arrived today by train from Paris.

The French leader immediately went into informal session with Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak, who has set out to reconcile the differences between France and her friends over the powers and principles of the European Defense Community project.

It was understood that the French Premier at once served notice on Spaak that the choice facing the group is between his own plan for a new European army treaty or no EDC at all. The Mendes - France proposals would alter the whole basis of EDC as it was originally written.

The entire course of the West's European policies appeared to be at stake in the outcome of the two-day parley beginning here tomorrow between France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Italy.

If the EDC six fail to agree, the United States and Britain would be placed in a position of seeming to support the Germans at the expense of the French. For Washington and London already have agreed that they must, with or without France, give West Germany more freedom this fall and later give the restless Germans the right to rearm.

Wyoming GOP Picks Harrison

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 18 (AP)—Wyoming Republican voters chose the state's lone congressman, William Henry Harrison, to oppose a Democratic veteran of Washington politics, former Sen. Joseph C.O'Mahoney, in the Nov. 2 election for the U.S. Senate.

Harrison, 58, descendant of two Presidents, polled more votes than those for his three rivals combined for the GOP nomination in Tuesday's primary.

O'Mahoney was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for the long term. The 70-year-old Democrat was in the Senate for 19 years until his defeat in 1952. Harrison was elected to the House in 1950.

He and O'Mahoney also won their parties' nominations for the short term—election day to Jan.1 the remainder of the term to which the late Sen. Lester Hunt, a Democrat, was elected. Hunt killed himself in Washington last June.

Sen. Edward D. Crippa, a Republican appointed to serve until election day, did not run for election.

Officials Work To 'Open' Books On Atom Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Officials of two government agencies worked overtime today to make good on President Eisenhower's unusual offer to open the books on his controversial proposal for new private power facilities in the Tennessee Valley area.

Spokesmen for the Budget Bureau and the Atomic Energy Commission said a hurried search of files is being made to extract a "full and complete" set of documents, with the hope they can be made public Friday.

The President said at his news conference yesterday that any reporter could go to the two agencies and get the complete record of still unconcluded negotiations between the AEC and a Southern utility group to build a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark.

The statement was in connection with charges by Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell that the President had ordered the contract over the protests of two government agencies and that one of his closest friends was interested. Mitchell's office said he referred to golfer Bobby Jones, a director of the Southern Co., which, with Middle South Utilities Inc. has offered to build the new 107-million-dollar plant to supply additional power to the Memphis, area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

The President defended Jones' integrity and said his action in this case, as in all non-security contractual relationships involving the United States, was open to the public.

U. S., Britain Reject France's Big Four Proposal

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 8 (AP)—The United States and Britain were reported tonight to have curtly rejected a French proposal for an early Big Four foreign ministers meeting with Russia.

A diplomatic informant said the U.S.-British turndown was phrased in some of the most blistering terms addressed to France by her Western allies in many years.

The exchange centered on Russia's recent call for a Big Four conference to reopen talks on a German peace settlement and for a parley of all European countries and the United States to negotiate an East-West security system.

Doctor Claims His Innocence

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, proclaimed his innocence in a 900-word statement today and insisted "I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world."

The 30-year-old osteopath reviewed the entire case, starting with the July 4 murder and ending in his first degree murder indictment yesterday, and said in conclusion:

"I am not guilty."

His statement, which had no new information and took several slaps at Cleveland police authorities, was released by his brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard. Dr. Samuel Sheppard is locked up in the county jail, where he was returned following the indictment.

"I have told the police and other officials who questioned me all I know about the murder of my wife," Dr. Sheppard's statement said. "I have done this freely and willingly because I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world.

"I loved my wife; we rejoiced that we were to have a second child, all the scandal and the gossip to the contrary. We had even given our unborn child a name and had named it Stephen Allen. The last three months of our married life was perhaps among the happiest that we enjoyed together."

Leaders Agree On New Red Ban Compromise Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Congressional leaders were reported tonight to have reached agreement on compromise language designed to satisfy Senate Democrats who offered the bill to ban the Communist party.

The measure, tied up in a House-Senate conference committee, is one of the last remaining major bills blocking adjournment of Congress.

Senate Republican leaders refused to hint at the substance of the compromise they have reportedly arranged to satisfy Congress, which is on record in favor of making it a crime to belong to the Communist party, and the administration, which is fearful that language in the bill might render key portions of other anti-Communist laws ineffective.

But one key GOP leader in the Senate said he was certain the conference group, which has not had a formal meeting as yet, would come up with a solution tomorrow which would satisfy both Congress and the administration.

Another senator, who likewise declined to be quoted by name, said he understood the language change was designed among other things to protect beyond question the legal status of Justice Department prosecutions in the antisubversive field which are now pending.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said the conference committee, named earlier today, would not meet tonight. When newsmen asked if he could verify rumors that despite lack of a formal meeting, a "meeting of minds" had been achieved, Knowland replied:

"All I can say is we will have something tomorrow."

Order Four Divisions To Other Areas

Leaves Two American Units, Korea Republic Is Deeply Concerned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Defense Department announced today it will shift four divisions from Korea to other areas "where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States."

Advance reports that three U.S. divisions would be pulled out had already caused deep concern in Korea, where the republic's National Assembly unanimously voted to oppose it.

The withdrawal of four divisions would leave two American divisions, a British Commonwealth division and smaller units from other Allied nations in South Korea, together with 20 Republic of Korea divisions.

The official Pentagon announcement, which followed by only a few hours an official statement that "The Army has no knowledge of any early withdrawal," said:

Announce Plans

"The Defense Department announced today the plan to withdraw four U.S. divisions from Korea within the next several months. These divisions will be deployed to other areas where it is believed they will better serve the strategic interest of the United States.

"The designation of the divisions to be withdrawn will be announced by the U.S. Army later.

"This withdrawal is in further implementation of the policy announced by President Eisenhower on Dec. 26, 1953."

That Eisenhower announcement said U.S. ground forces in Korea would be reduced "as circumstances warrant."

The official South Korean attitude, expressed by the National Assembly, was that the circumstances do not warrant any withdrawal now, in view of the continuing menace of Communist forces in North Korea.

Return To States

U.S. divisions now in Korea are the 1st Marines and the 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 24th and 25th Army divisions.

Informed Washington sources said two Army divisions and one regimental combat team will be brought back to the United States, along with another combat team now stationed in Japan. They said two of the divisions taken out of Korea probably would remain in the Pacific, one of them on Okinawa and one in Hawaii.

In supplying these reports, the sources did not designate which divisions might stay or which might go elsewhere.

Shifting of one division from Korea to Okinawa would bring its strength closer to the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, toward which the Chinese Communists have been talking with new belligerence of late.

The ROK National Assembly, in expressing deep concern over the withdrawal, said that if the United States persists and does not provide a new buildup of South Korea, this would "leave the United States solely responsible for whatever may happen in the Korean phase of the Communist drive toward Asian and world power."

Heroic French Commander May Be Released By Reds

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, heroic French commander captured by the Communist-led Vietminh in the fall of the Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu, will be among 280 French officers to be freed in an exchange of prisoners, Peiping radio announced today.

The Communist broadcast gave no exact date, but dispatches from Hanoi said the exchange between the French and Vietminh was scheduled to begin today at Viet Tri on the Red River, 30 miles northwest of Hanoi, and at Sam Son on the coast 80 miles south of Haiphong.

In Paris, De Castries' overjoyed wife, Jacqueline, said she had been informed earlier by French officials that should the Reds release her husband he likely would be among the last to be exchanged.

"I would like to cry, to sing, to scream all together," she said when told of the Peiping broadcast heard in London.

French sources in Hanoi have estimated about 15,000 will be involved on both sides. The Peiping broadcast said 4,910 prisoners—4,590 Europeans and Africans and 320 Vietnamese—will be handed over to the French at Viet Tri.

De Castries, 52, was taken prisoner when Dien Bien Phu fell on May 7 after holding out for 57 days against numerically superior Communist-led forces. During the siege De Castries was promoted from colonel to brigadier general, an unprecedented thing in recent French military history. French governments previously held no promotion should be made while a battle was going on.

Taken prisoner with De Castries were about 7,000 officers and men, including foreign legionnaires, North Africans and Vietnamese.

Reserve Officers To Get Better Promotion Chances

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) —Ignoring a request by President Eisenhower to delay action, the Senate today passed a bill intended to give reserve officers of all the armed services the same promotion opportunities held by regular officers.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) won approval of her proposal after contending that some regular officers in the Pentagon were fighting the bill because "they simply do not want officers with rank in the reserves."

The measure now goes back to the House, which passed it a year ago, for consideration of minor Senate amendments.

One amendment delays effective date of the act until next July 1 so the administration may propose any changes or additions before it goes into operation.

Mrs. Smith said senate action had been delayed most of this session by "Pentagon resistance" to most programs for "civilian soldiers."

Pentagon officials asked the Senate to delay action on the bill until the administration presented its over-all "new look for the reserves" proposals.

President Eisenhower in an unusual letter July 27, asked Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) to delay action by the Armed Services Committee on the bill, writing:

"Legislation on reserve promotions now before your committee reaches far into the fundamentals of the reserve program; it should, therefore, be withheld until the entire system can be tightly evaluated as we are now doing."

At present regular career officers of the armed services are periodically considered for promotion, and if they fail to qualify are separated or retired.

The pending bill would apply a similar system to 660,500 reserve officers.

World Church Council Will Rotate Leaders

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP)—The World Council of Churches, now headed by some of the commanding figures of modern Christendom, decided today to require that its leadership be rotated at each five-year global assembly.

The new bylaw, barring any Council president from serving two terms in a row, was adopted after nearly an hour of debate.

"It would be unwise to change all the presidents at the same time," argued Archbishop Yngve Brilioth, primate of the Church of Sweden. "It would rob that high office of the benefits of continuity and experience."

The clash was the first to break into the open at the assembly, where 1,500 representatives from separate churches around the world are meeting to seek closer bonds among all Christians.

"If we fail to adopt this new provision," declared Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, one of the present council presidents, "I think we would be driving a wedge into the life of this council."

He said if presidents were eligible for reelection and only part of them were restored to office while others were not, it would "offend churches" whose leaders were dropped.

"Deep psychological wounds might follow," he said.

It was learned many Anglican leaders felt that if Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury and primate of the Church of England, were not retained as a Council president, some Council prestige among Anglicans would be lost.

To bar presidents from reelection, declared Canon R. K. Naylor, of the Church of England in Canada, would make them "only figureheads of no importance whatever."

The rule, however, carried easily, by a 312-to-52 vote. It had been recommended by the Council's 90-member central committee presumably with support of the present presidents.

House Sends Bill For Unemployed To White House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The House today passed by voice vote and sent to the White House a bill extending the unemployment compensation program to about four million additional workers. The change becomes effective Dec. 31, 1955.

The workers it would bring under the program include all federal civilian employes and employes of firms which have four or more workers during at least 20 weeks of a year. The present federal law applies only to firms with eight or more employes.

The three men named are Clarence Duke McGann, 24; Earl Kill Smith, 25, and Henry John Foster, 23, all New York Negroes.

McGann is the man in custody.

U. S. District Attorney George Cochran Doub recommended his bail be increased from $50,000 to $100,000 and Judge W. Calvin Chesnut also specified the $100,000 figure for Smith and Foster if they are caught.

Senate Passes Supplement Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Senate today passed by voice vote and sent to President Eisenhower a $1,659,000,000 supplemental bill—one of the must items remaining before adjournment.

The measure contains hundreds of items to supplement funds for nearly every department in the government in the current financial year which began July 1.

One other money measure remains to be disposed of—the $2,800,000,000 foreign aid allotment. Senate—House conferees met on it this afternoon.

The catchall bill was denounced by Democrats as "one of the biggest, one of the juiciest, pork barrel, log - rolling, politically conscious" measures ever presented to Congress.

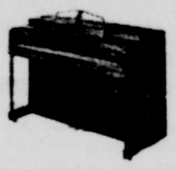

Republicans defended it, contending that many of the items are essential to national defense and that others will give a boost to the nation's economy.

Queen Anne's Ballot Challenge Finished

Almost Half Of Votes Facing Court Action

CENTREVILLE, Md., Aug. 18 (AP) — Lawyers for H. C. Byrd and George P. Mahoney packed up and went back home today after challenging nearly half of the total vote cast in Queen Anne's County for the two candidates.

It was the second look at the ballots for representatives of the two candidates for the Democratic party's nomination as governor.

In the June 28 primary election, Byrd just barely took the Eastern Shore county, drawing 2,035 votes to 1,982 for Mahoney in the official canvass.

Mahoney demanded a recount which reduced Byrd's lead from 53 votes to only 22 votes. The recount tally made it 1,835 for Byrd and 1,813 for Mahoney.

When Mahoney tried to get the court to force the county board of election supervisors to throw out even more ballots—enough to give him the county—Judge William R. Horney ruled he did not have the authority.

The Maryland Court of Appeals reversed the Second Judicial Circuit's chief judge and told him to consider the Mahoney case.

Judge Horney then ordered attorneys for the two principals to sit down with the board of election supervisors and sort out the ballots Mahoney was questioning.

As they plowed through the pile of nearly 4,000 ballots, both parties vastly enlarged the challenging activities.

At the end of the grind today, Byrd forces had challenged 1,223 of the Mahoney ballots and Mahoney's men had challenged 659 of the Byrd ballots.

This means, if the case ever gets to court, Judge Horney will have to inspect and rule on the validity of nearly 2,000 ballots, about half of the total vote.

He has already ruled the Board of Election Supervisors of Talbot County did not act improperly in counting ballots Mahoney wanted thrown out.

Lawyers for the Baltimore County contractor have indicated they'll appeal that decision to the State Court of Appeals.

It is expected the action may be taken Tuesday.

If the high court upholds Judge Horney, the Queen Anne's case will not be taken to court since Mahoney needs both counties to upset the 80-72 unit vote victory Byrd won in the primary.

Even if Mahoney succeeded in taking Talbot County's four unit votes from Byrd, he'd lose the election without Queen Anne's votes because Byrd's slight popular vote margin would give him the nomination.

Consequently, little Queen Anne's County's three unit votes are decisive.

Lightning Kills One, Burns Two

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 18 (AP) —A Carroll County, Md., minister was burned badly by lightning while golfing this morning, in a storm that killed one companion and burned another.

The Rev. Donald McIntosch, 39, of Hampstead, suffered second and third degree burns but was reported in good condition. Killed by the bolt was The Rev. Elmer Nevenschwander, 31, of Fort Wayne. His brother, Elbert Nevenschwander, 27, of Hamilton, Ohio, was burned.

The Rev. McIntosch, brother-in-law of the other two, is pastor of the Methodist Church in Hampstead. The three were on the Brookwood golf course when lightning struck a big oak tree they were under.

Indict Man In Kidnapping

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP) — A Federal kidnapping indictment was returned today against Robert Jerome Ellers, 26-year-old Washingtonian accused of holding a family in terror all day Aug. 9 at their home at Seat Pleasant, Md., a Washington suburb.

The indictment charged Ellers with transporting Harold E. Grimm, 52-year-old Washington fireman, across a state line from Maryland into the District of Columbia.

Grimm told police Ellers forced him to drive to Washington and then fled.

Grimm and his 16-year-old son picked Ellers out of a police lineup as the man who held them and three other members of the family with a sawed off rifle and a meat cleaver.

Ellers, they said, emerged from the barn early in the morning and terrorized the family all day until Grimm drove him into Washington late that night.

Ellers was arrested at his rooming house in Washington. District of Columbia authorities also have filed charges against him in connection with a similar escapade in Washington.

Judge W. Calvin Chesnut set bail at $25,000 on the recommendation of George Cochran Doub, U. S. district attorney for Maryland.

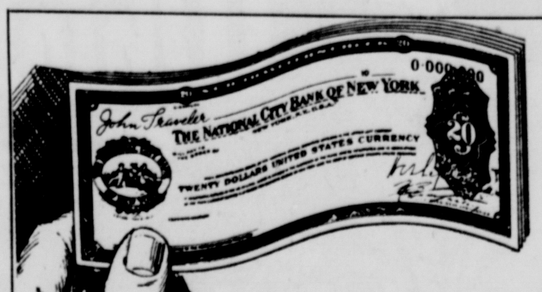

Members of the Grimm family quoted Ellers as saying he would not hesitate to kill them because he already was wanted for murder.

LaSalle Graduate Awarded Prize

A 17-year-old LaSalle High School graduate has been awarded second prize in the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia Elks Association's "Most Valuable Student" contest of the Elks National Foundation.

Recipient of a $100 Savings Bond is J. Robert Michaels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Michaels, Eckhart, who represented Cumberland Lodge 63.

After winning a $25 bond in the Allegany County competition about two months ago, Michaels was entered in the tri-state association contest.

He was judged on scholarship, citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness, patriotism and general worthiness. Statements submitted in the contest summarized his activities, accomplishments and objectives of further education.

Michaels, who plans to enter college, was valedictorian of his graduating class at LaSalle last June. He received awards for general excellence, languages and essay writing.

Presentation of the tri-state award will be made today in Annapolis.

Thompson Returns

Magistrate Alban C. Thompson of Juvenile Court has returned to his duties in the Union Street County Building on a half-day basis. He had been ill more than four months.

Friends Aware Will Plan For Sunshine Camp Session

The Association of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children will meet today at 8 p. m. at Cumberland Savings Bank and then go to the Kiwanis Sunshine Camp where it is hoped to start a class for physically and mentally handicapped children who are ineligible for public schooling.

Mrs. John J. Long, president, said yesterday that Mrs. Ella Everstine, psychiatric consultant of the Allegany County Health Department, has devised an individual case history form for the association.

These forms will be distributed and filled out at today's meeting. However, any one who has not been attending the meetings and desires to obtain one of the forms, may do so by calling 2115 or writing Mrs. Long at 518 Ridgewood Avenue. Parents or friends of handicapped children need not be registered with the association to obtain forms, she emphasized.

The forms will be used to facilitate screening for the first class which, it is hoped, will get underway soon. The forms will also provide guidance in purchasing equipment.

Mrs. Long said a program to serve needs of all handicapped children in the area can be planned only after sufficient information relative to each child has been obtained.

IOOF-Rebekah Roundup Attended By Large Crowd

Several hundred persons attended the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Roundup held recently at Constitution Park, with Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia lodges represented.

A program of games and contests for children and adults was held under supervision of Frederick Imhoff, Westernport.

A basket dinner was served prior to a drill exhibition conducted on the baseball diamond by ladies from Colfax Rebekah Lodge 1, Cumberland, and Miriam Rebekah Lodge 16, Westernport, under direction of Ira Lease, captain of Allegany Canton 4, Cumberland.

Mayor Roy W. Eves extended a welcome from the city to the assembled members of the order. The principal address was given by Maurice A. Ramsburg, Frederick, grand master of the jurisdiction of Maryland. Brief remarks were also made by Mrs. Addie Brosky, Baltimore, president of the Rebekah Assembly; E. Earl Hearn, Baltimore, grand representative and past grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland; Mrs. Amanda Robinette, Cumberland, president of the Association of Ladies Auxiliaries of Patriarch Militant, and V. Browne Kooken, Westernport, past grand master and chairman of the affair.

Burland E. DeBolt, Cumberland, grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Maryland IOOF, was master of ceremonies. Other officers of the grand bodies present, included B. Frank Benny, Easton, deputy grand master; J. Lee Stafford, Easton, grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland; Harry Hilton, Sparrows Point, grand high priest and Frederick Imhoff, Westernport., grand outside sentinel; Mrs. Irene Maugans, Hagerstown, vice president of the Rebekah Assembly, and several past grand masters and past presidents of the jurisdiction of Maryland.

This was the first of three affairs to be held by Odd Fellows in the state. The next will be at Easton, on October 16, and the third will be held in Baltimore in February, 1955.

Boy Scout Picnic Planned For Sunday

The annual picnic of Cumberland District, Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

H. H. Lowery, Cumberland District chairman, said the outing is for all adults interested in Scouting and families of boys in the local program.

Recreation will include swimming, boating, softball, archery, rifle shooting, and other regular activities engaged by Scouts during their camp.

TV Station Here Remains Uncertain

Because of the recent sale of Radio Station WTBO-AM-TV by the Chernoff-Baer families to Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corporation, it seems apparent that Cumberland will not have a television station this year or in 1955.

A permit to construct an ultra high frequency station for Channel 17 was issued nearly a year ago to the Maryland Radio Corporation, the operating organization of Radio Station WTBO, but that company announced the sale of its Cumberland holdings (including the television permit) in July to the Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corporation.

Maryland Broadcasting Corporation officials announced earlier in the year that they planned to have equipment ready for test patterns in August, with programs scheduled to begin in September or October, but installation of the necessary facilities was never started, and the recent transaction means a further delay in that the sale must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

It is expected the time limit of the TV permit will expire before the sale is approved, and so far Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corporation officials have made no statement regarding plans for telecasting.

It is certain they will make a careful check of all phases of operation, especially since a large number of ultra high frequency stations in cities much larger than Cumberland have abandoned operations due to the inability to secure enough contracts to meet expenses.

Radio-television trade papers, also report that a large number of companies have turned back their permits for TV after deciding it would be impossible to operate at a profit.

Police Officer Resigns

LaSalle Graduate Awarded Prize

A 17-year-old LaSalle High School graduate has been awarded second prize in the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia Elks Association's "Most Valuable Student" contest of the Elks National Foundation.

Recipient of a $100 Savings Bond is J. Robert Michaels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Michaels, Eckhart, who represented Cumberland Lodge 63.

After winning a $25 bond in the Allegany County competition about two months ago, Michaels was entered in the tri-state association contest.

He was judged on scholarship, citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness,patriotism and general worthiness. Statements submitted in the contest summarized his activities, accomplishments and objectives of further education.

Michaels, who plan to enter college, was valedictorian of his graduating class at LaSalle last June. He received awards for general excellence, languages and essay writing.

Presentation of the tri-state award will be made today in Annapolis.

Closing events for the summer season will be held today at two of Cumberland's playlots.

A picnic will be held at Constitution Park by Pennsylvania Avenue in the afternoon, and a wiener roast at 7:30 p. m. at the playfield. A community sing will follow the wiener roast.

Children registered at the playground who wish to participate in the fishing rodeo Saturday are to sign before 7:30 p. m. today for bus transportation which will be provided from the playlot at 9:30 a. m. Saturday.

A picnic will be held at Constitution Park today for children registered at Columbia Street Playground.

A bus will leave the playground at 10:30 a. m. for the park and return at 4 p. m. Those desiring to go are to contact their play leaders.

Local Draft Boards To Send 11 Inductees

Local draft boards will send 11 registrants to Fairmont (W. Va.) September 9 for induction into the armed forces.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator, said Board 27 will dispatch four; Board 28, three and Board 29, four. The group will travel via Blue Ridge bus.

Thompson Returns

Magistrate Alban C. Thompson of Juvenile Court has returned to his duties in the Union Street County Building on a half-day basis. He had been ill more than four months.

Friends Aware Will Plan For Sunshine Camp Session

The Association of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children will meet today at 8 p. m. at Cumberland Savings Bank and then go to the Kiwanis Sunshine Camp where it is hoped to start a class for physically and mentally handicapped children who are ineligible for public schooling.

Mrs. John J. Long, president, said yesterday that Mrs. Ella Everstine, psychiatric consultant of the Allegany County Health Department, has devised an individual case history form for the association.

These forms will be distributed and filled out at today's meeting. However, any one who has not been attending the meetings and desires to obtain one of the forms, may do so by calling 2115 or writing Mrs. Long at 518 Ridgewood Avenue. Parents or friends of handicapped children need not be registered with the association to obtain forms, she emphasized.

The forms will be used to facilitate screening for the first class which, it is hoped, will get underway soon. The forms will also provide guidance in purchasing equipment.

Mrs. Long said a program to serve needs of all handicapped children in the area can be planned only after sufficient information relative to each child has been obtained.

IOOF-Rebekah Roundup Attended By Large Crowd

Several hundred persons attended the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Roundup held recently at Constitution Park, with Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia lodges represented.

A program of games and contests for children and adults was held under supervision of Frederick Imhoff, Westernport.

A basket dinner was served prior to a drill exhibition conducted on the baseball diamond by ladies from Colfax Rebekah Lodge 1, Cumberland, and Miriam Rebekah Lodge 16, Westernport, under direction of Ira Lease, captain of Allegany Canton 4, Cumberland.

Mayor Roy W. Eves extended a welcome from the city to the assembled members of the order. The principal address was given by Maurice A. Ramsburg, Frederick, grand master of the jurisdiction of Maryland. Brief remarks were also made by Mrs. Addie Brosky, Baltimore, president of the Rebekah Assembly; E. Earl Hearn, Baltimore, grand representative and past grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland; Mrs. Amanda Robinette, Cumberland, president of the Association of Ladies Auxiliaries of Patriarch Militant, and V. Browne Kooken, Westernport, past grand master and chairman of the affair.

Burland E. DeBolt, Cumberland, grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Maryland IOOF, was master of ceremonies. Other officers of the grand bodies present, included B. Frank Benny, Easton, deputy grand master; J. Lee Stafford, Easton, grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland; Harry Hilton, Sparrows Point, grand high priest and Frederick Imhoff, Westernport,, grand outside sentinel; Mrs. Irene Maugans, Hagerstown, vice president of the Rebekah Assembly, and several past grand masters and past presidents of the jurisdiction of Maryland.

This was the first of three affairs to be held by Odd Fellows in the state. The next will be at Easton, on October 16, and the third will be held in Baltimore in February, 1955.

Boy Scout Picnic Planned For Sunday

The annual picnic of Cumberland District, Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

H. H. Lowery, Cumberland District chairman, said the outing is for all adults interested in Scouting and families of boys in the local program.

Recreation will include swimming, boating, softball, archery, rifle shooting, and other regular activities engaged by Scouts during their camp.

TV Station Here Remains Uncertain

Because of the recent sale of Radio Station WTBO-AM-TV by the Chernoff-Baer families to Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corporation, it seems apparent that Cumberland will not have a television station this year or in 1955.

A permit to construct an ultra high frequency station for Channel 17 was issued nearly a year ago to the Maryland Radio Corporation, the operating organization of Radio Station WTBO, but that company announced the sale of its Cumberland holdings (including the television permit) in July to the Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corporation.

Maryland Broadcasting Corporation officials announced earlier in the year that they planned to have equipment ready for test patterns in August, with programs scheduled to begin in September or October, but installation of the necessary facilities was never started, and the recent transaction means a further delay in that the sale must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

It is expected the time limit of the TV permit will expire before the sale is approved, and so far Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corporation officials have made no statement regarding plans for telecasting.

It is certain they will make a careful check of all phases of operation, especially since a large number of ultra high frequency stations in cities much larger than Cumberland have abandoned operations due to the inability to secure enough contracts to meet expenses.

Radio-television trade papers also report that a large number of companies have turned back their permits for TV after deciding it would be impossible to operate at a profit.

Police Officer Resigns

City Police Officer Robert R. Hammann yesterday submitted a letter of resignation to the Civil Service Commission, effective August 24. He joined the force January 31, 1949.

City Schedules Tests For New Fire Engine

Performance Check To Be Held Monday

Fire Underwriter officials will make exhaustive tests on Cumberland's new fire truck, according to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

The new pumper is to be delivered on Monday by the Ahrens-Fox Company and will be placed at South End Fire Company.

The commissioner said an inspector for the Fire Underwriters will be here Monday to make complete tests of the equipment.

Officials said the city must pay for the $15,354.18 pumper within 15 days after delivery, and want to be sure that it meets all standards.

The underwriters acceptance test, made on each new pumper, is a three-hour performance test.

Cumberland's new truck has a rated capacity of 750 gallons a minute under 150 pounds of pressure, fire officials said.

Experts from the Underwriters will operate the pumper for two hours at the rated capacity, then a half-hour under 200 pounds of pressure and a final half-hour under 250 pounds of pressure.

Joins Navy

Harry Hampton Taylor, 20, of Beryl, W.Va., enlisted in the Navy for a four-year period, according to Chief E. J. Carey, local recruiter. He has been assigned to Bainbridge for boot training.

"Mothers and fathers are entitled to know and it is the court's duty, by its action, to reassure them, that depraved sexual offenders will be severely dealt with when convicted. This is the only way to prevent continuing repetitions of crimes of this nature."

Punishment Can Save Others

"It is better that severe punishment be meted out if by so doing we save some other little girl's virtue from being violated."

He went on to say that innocent people suffer in these cases.

"So it is with Davis's wife and family. Even that cannot deter justice," he declared.

Davis might be classed as a defective delinquent, the judge pointed out. Judge Harris noted that Estel C. Kelly, Davis' court-appointed attorney, had filed a petition with the court asking the court to suggest to the Board of Correction that his client be given a mental examination and if he qualifies, be committed to the Patuxent Institute.

This institution for mental defectives will open in October and any action for Davis will be in the hands of the Board of Correction, the judge added.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.

When he finished these remarks, Judge Harris told Davis to stand up and receive sentence.

Badly shaken, he could scarcely walk without help of a deputy sheriff to the side of his attractive, sobbing wife. Davis attempted to comfort her while Judge Harris addressed Whitaker.

To Whitaker, a trucker before his arrest, he said:

"What I said in the Davis case applies to you. There is a great similarity in the two crimes."

The judge said he had received Steele's report on Whitaker's background and had given his case long study.

"There could be no good reason for any difference in the sentences. You, too, gained the confidence of your stepdaughter and violated her virtue.

"You have proved you no longer should have the privilege of liberty," the judge added.

There were only a handful of spectators in the court room as the terms were pronounced.

Court attaches recalled that it is the first time in many years that two men were sentenced to life imprisonment on the same day for the same type crime.

Keyser WSCS Studies Work Among Japanese

Several Future Events Planned

KEYSER — The theme of the August meeting of the WSCS of First Methodist Church, held a recent evening, was "The Entrance of Thy Word Giveth Light," with Mrs. Carter Welling giving devotions and Mrs. John Thrush conducting the program. Taking part in the program, were: Mrs. Charles Steiding, Mrs. Margaret Clements, Mrs. Josephine Hull, and Mrs. Charles W. Paskel, pianist.

Important work being carried on in Japan was stressed in the form of topics such as seed being sent to rural centers, the work of illustrating "belief" and "faith," renewed life through planting flowers, and work camps, health work and child welfare. The closing hymn, "We've A Story to Tell to the Nations," was followed by prayer by Mrs. Steiding.

A covered dish supper will be served Friday at 6 p. m. in the church for officers and group leaders, with an important business session to follow. A rummage sale will be conducted on October 28, 29 and 30 at Bright's Auto Sales show room.

Other announcements included notice of a fall seminar at Trinity Church, Piedmont, September 8. Registration time is 9:30 a. m. D-ST and reservations should be sent to Mrs. Clyde Ash, Westernport. Four important courses are to be taught, and lunch will be served.

Treasure chest boxes will be used for four years, according to another announcement. A point system will be used throughout the year to receive additional credit from the society.

A scrapbook on "The Status of Women," is being made and Mrs. Steiding has asked for articles and pictures to be used.

Miss Jeannette McGuffie gave a special report on courses to be studied this year, and the group was asked to supply names for the birthday calendar in September.

Group 4 served refreshments with Mrs. W. E. Michael and Mrs. Pauline Gelwick, co-hostesses.

7 Area Youths Join Air Force

Seven area men have been accepted for enlistment and one for re-enlistment in the Air Force and have been assigned to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N.Y. for basic training.

M/Sgt. R. W. Stewart, local recruiter, said each man enlisted for a four-year period.

The group, which left this week, includes Donald R. Mayle, 50 Creek Street, Petersburg, W.Va.; Donald L. Lehman, Hyndman, Pa.; Ronald V. Grabenstein, Oldtown Road; James E. Miltenberger Jr., RFD 1, Ridgeley; Eddie W. Lewis, 32 East Avenue, Petersburg; James E. Swauger, Grantsville, and Charles R. Ringer, Grantsville.

Leroy Thompson, Boynton, Pa., re-enlisted for four years. He has four years prior service.

Sgt. Stewart said yesterday he now has a telephone in his recruiting office in the Post Office building. The number is 1420. The office had been without a telephone for some time.

Will Build Home

Luegi Paoletti, 135 West Third Street, secured a permit yesterday to build a 48-by-26-foot brick home on Lot 61, Schlund Addition, Frederick Street. The home is to be built on a 150-by-200-foot lot and will cost about $7,000.

City Schedules Tests For New Fire Engine

Performance Check To Be Held Monday

Fire Underwriter officials will make exhaustive tests on Cumberland's new fire truck, according to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

The new pumper is to be delivered on Monday by the Ahrens-Fox Company and will be placed at South End Fire Company.

The commissioner said an inspector for the Fire Underwriters will be here Monday to make complete tests of the equipment.

Officials said the city must pay for the $15,354.18 pumper within 15 days after delivery, and want to be sure that it meets all standards.

The underwriters acceptance test, made on each new pumper, is a three-hour performance test.

Cumberland's new truck has a rated capacity of 750 gallons a minute under 150 pounds of pressure, fire officials said.

Experts from the Underwriters will operate the pumper for two hours at the rated capacity, then a half-hour under 200 pounds of pressure and a final half-hour under 250 pounds of pressure.

Joins Navy

Harry Hampton Taylor, 20, of Beryl, W.Va., enlisted in the Navy for a four-year period, according to Chief E. J. Carey, local recruiter. He has been assigned to Bainbridge for boot training.

"Mothers and fathers are entitled to know and it is the court's duty, by its action, to reassure them, that depraved sexual offenders will be severely dealt with when convicted. This is the only way to prevent continuing repetitions of crimes of this nature."

Punishment Can Save Others

"It is better that severe punishment be meted out if by so doing we save some other little girl's virtue from being violated."

He went on to say that innocent people suffer in these cases.

"So it is with Davis's wife and family. Even that cannot deter justice," he declared.

Davis might be classed as a defective delinquent, the judge pointed out. Judge Harris noted that Estel C. Kelly, Davis' court-appointed attorney, had filed a petition with the court asking the court to suggest to the Board of Correction that his client be given a mental examination and if he qualifies, be committed to the Patuxent Institute.

This institution for mental defectives will open in October and any action for Davis will be in the hands of the Board of Correction, the judge added.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). When he finished these remarks, Judge Harris told Davis to stand up and receive sentence.

Badly shaken, he could scarcely walk without help of a deputy sheriff to the side of his attractive, sobbing wife. Davis attempted to comfort her while Judge Harris addressed Whitaker.

To Whitaker, a trucker before his arrest, he said:

"What I said in the Davis case applies to you. There is a great similarity in the two crimes."

The judge said he had received Steele's report on Whitaker's background and had given his case long study.

"There could be no good reason for any difference in the sentences. You, too, gained the confidence of your stepdaughter and violated her virtue.

"You have proved you no longer should have the privilege of liberty," the judge added.

There were only a handful of spectators in the court room as the terms were pronounced.

Court attaches recalled that it is the first time in many years that two men were sentenced to life imprisonment on the same day for the same type crime.

Life Imprisonment For Sex Offenders

Judge Morgan C. Harris has served notice that sex offenders will not be tolerated in Allegany County and he deserves public commendation for his action, aimed at protecting young children.

Yesterday in Circuit Court Judge Harris sentenced to life imprisonment two Cumberland men found guilty of statutory rape of two minor girls.

We know that Judge Harris gave long, considered study to both cases before passing sentence because it is no easy matter for one man to tell two others they are to be confined in prison for the rest of their natural lives.

The thoughts he faced and the emotions that confronted him were referred to briefly when he said in court: "The humanity of the law feels and regrets every pain it causes, the hours of restraint it imposes. The criminal law must of necessity use evil as the means of preventing greater evil. It seeks to deter from crime by the example of punishment. This is the true and only true object."

In passing sentence, Judge Harris recognized the hurt suffered by the innocent, friends and family, when a wrongdoer is punished, but as he pointed out, "Even that cannot deter justice."

The life term imposed is a severe sentence to compensate as far as compensation is possible in such matters for a serious, revolting and heinous crime.

Judge Harris put it succinctly when he passed sentence:

"A man who gains the confidence of a little female child and defiles her virtue thereby forfeits his right to circulate in society.

"Crimes of this nature are committed in a calculated manner which makes them more atrocious. They outrage the average individual."

The sentences are ample warning to sex offenders that they cannot practice here. Judge Harris' determination to rid this community of such wrongdoers and his courage in meting out the severe sentences we know is reassuring to mothers and fathers of this community. He deserves their appreciation.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

On The Republican Schism

The schism within the Republican party is not a family quarrel. To understand it at all, it must be recognized that from 1932 to 1952, a large number of men and women, often at great personal sacrifice, did the chores of keeping an unpopular party together. During that 20-year period, numerous Republicans passed over to the New Deal, some, such as Henry Wallace, Harold Ickes, Frank Knox and Henry Stimson, taking office in Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet.

There was hope in 1940 among Republicans that they might carry the country on the third term issue. Party workers hoped that the candidate would be either Robert A. Taft or Thomas E. Dewey; they were elbowed out by an effective public relations campaign organized by a group in the National Association of Manufacturers who projected Wendell Willkie, a Democrat, a former county committeeman in Tammany Hall.

(It has often been denied that the National Association of Manufacturers had anything to do with this. Such a denial is only correct in the sense that no direct formal action was taken and none was necessary. I was then associated with the NAM and speak of my own knowledge that the first projection of Willkie was from this NAM group.)

Most organization Republicans resented Willkie and enough of them stayed away from the polls on election day. Willkie's subsequent close relations with Roosevelt and with New Deal and even left wing groups further alienated him from organization Republicans. "Freedom House" in New York rather than the Republican party is symbolic of Willkie's short career in politics.

The Republican party was largely held together by the conservative element which followed the leadership of Robert A. Taft and the guidance of Herbert Hoover. However, it must be noted that the other important leader of this party was Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York but who also gathered about him those elements in the party who were opposed to what they called, "isolationism."

In the 1952 Republican Convention, it can be said that there were two distinct political parties meeting under one roof, each claiming control of the Republican party. One was led by Robert A. Taft; the other by Thomas E. Dewey. The wounds of that convention have never healed, although Taft, in his last months, ministered to them.

Lord Josiah Stamp, the British economist, once made this important point:

". . . We have seen country after country making a mess of democratic forms, either getting so many parties representing every shade of opinion in the law-making machine that there have been delay and deadlock in government, or else consolidating into two parties so that the majority of voters find their own views blotted out by large masses of compromise, indistinguishable details in highest common factors that certainly get things done, but give no shade of opinion an outlet."

For want of a better designation, those who regard themselves as Taft Republicans now feel that their "shade of opinion," traditional in their party, is being blotted out. They find that two elements prevail in their party:

1. The present Dewey group whom they have resisted for 10 years, more or less;

2. New Dealers, political opportunists, ADA Republicans, CIO Republicans, Eisenhower personal friends, the so-called internationalists who worked with Roosevelt, Truman, Marshall, Acheson and against whom the Republicans waged the 1952 campaign.

For a while in 1953, particularly when Taft was alive, both sides fought for Eisenhower's ear and friendship. In those days there was no opposition to Eisenhower.

It can be said that the feeling among Taft Republicans is that the ADA is gaining control of both parties and that such a figure as Paul Hoffman, to mention one name, is the transmission belt for that purpose. This, for instance, is the attitude that large numbers of Republicans in New Jersey are taking toward the senatorial candidacy of Clifford Case.

From the standpoint of realistic politics, the President will have to purge the Republican party of the conservative elements or he will have to find a selfish formula for placating some of them. It is too late to do much about it for the 1954 campaign, but should the conservative Republicans gain strength in the Senate or should the Democrats gain either House in the next election, only a change of attitude in the White House can save this party from disintegration.

Congress Shows Contempt For Communists In U. S.

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The dramatic effort of Congress trying in the last few days of the session to write a bill that will reflect its deep-seated contempt for the Communist party in the United States is unquestionably evidence of the nation's alertness to the dangers of infiltration by subversive elements.

Since Republicans and Democrats in both the House and the Senate joined by overwhelming votes to approve various proposals of different phraseology—but all of them rendering the Communist organization illegal as a political party and calling it a conspiracy —there can be little doubt that many months of agitation on this subject have finally had a cumulative effect.

For Martin Dies, Democrat, long the foe of the Communists and the man who was berated by the Roosevelt administration for "seeing Reds every night under the bed," it has been an experience in vindication as he sees the Democratic party leaders sponsoring his bill to outlaw the Communist party, while the Republicans join in passing it.

Creates New Problems

But, unfortunately, some of the new problems to be created by the bill just passed are greater for the enforcement agencies of the government than they have been before, and perhaps the new bill is so worded that it will be rendered inoperative in part when the courts get to examining the constitutionality of some of the phrases.

The administration did not handle itself too well on the issue, and Republicans in Congress found themselves outmaneuvered by Democrats, though so far as the country is concerned there will not be too much concern over the fact that the Democrats and Republicans vied with each other to outlaw the Communist party.

The Department of Justice wanted the powers so phrased that it could prosecute the leaders and those who teach the overthrow of government. It has not been prepared for the task of putting 25,000 Communists in jail, which is what is called for if the pending bill becomes law. For the new measure would require that all Communist members be arrested and tried. The guide for juries would be to convict anyone who has been listed as a member or contributed money to the Communist party or has made himself subject to its discipline or has written or spoken in any way that carried out the plans of the Communist organization. But it stipulates that an alleged member must be proved to have known the purposes of the organization.

There were objections from some of the constitutional lawyers in the Senate but because of the politics —that is, the hazard of being recorded against anything which condemns the Communist party—the vote was virtually unanimous in every instance.

Presidential Veto Unlikely

The fact remains that trying to write laws on the floor of the Senate or House is not conducive to the enactment of clear-cut legislation. It may well be that the effort to load down the measure with clauses impossible to enforce or conflicting with sections of existing laws against subversives will so confuse the issue as to make difficult the actual attainment of the objectives of the legislation.

There has been talk of a presidential veto—which, politically at least, would embarrass the President—but this is not likely. The tendency nowadays is to accept unpalatable legislation and seek immediate amendment at the next session, and that's probably the wisest course to follow, especially with an election coming on in November.

All sorts of predictions are made that the new measure, if enacted, will be held invalid by the courts but, to save other sections of the bill, what is known as a "separability clause" has been attached so that, if one part is held unconstitutional, that will not affect the validity of the other parts.

One thing is clear—this Congress is well aware that Communists must be uprooted and that infiltration in labor unions and American institutions of all kinds must be stopped. Whether the votes just recorded by the Democrats in Congress will spare them the "20 years of treason" type of attack in the coming campaign or whether the Republicans will nevertheless point to the belated nature of the voting to outlaw the Communist party, the fact remains that it's almost unanimous—nearly everybody in Congress wants to see the Communist influence driven out of America.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Question is will Ike run for the 1956 door prize? The answer is yes.

At this stage of the game it looks like it had been postponed by the whether.

They're figuring out the direction of the cat jumps in the feline olympics.

We'll buzz you a secret very few people don't know. If the Demmies trap November's Congress Ike will still renew his option. His opponent will be the everblooming Adlai Stevenson, the talking man.

Nobody ever said Stevenson isn't a good man. The trouble is nobody ever said he was a bad one.

If Ike likes the aftermath of the November opinions he is in. The wind shows who's pulling the short straws.

In case he chucks it the heir-apparent is Nixon. If the shoe fits he will try on the homburg.

Some folks think Governor Dewey is entitled to the third strike. The old guard isn't peeverated because Tom missed the boat twice. What makes it choke on its own wattles is the boat was in dry-dock.

Tom makes a mighty fine governor. But there is something about the touch of high life that makes a man want to refuel in mid-air. After a fellow's governor he wants to do something important.

That frames the picture with Bricker and Stassen willing to ride the band-wagon instead of the rear-end caliope.

Debate In Farm Belt Over Farm Bill May Decide Control Of Congress

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—The bitter farm debate is now over as far as Congress is concerned, but it promises to ricochet back and forth across the farm belt for many months to come. Upon its outcome may depend who controls the next Congress of the United States.

Already Bill Thatcher's Farmers Union radio program in Minnesota has been booming out the familiar quote of General Eisenhower at the Kasson, Minn., plowing contest appearing to favor 100 per cent parity price supports.

Realizing the potential political dynamite in the Kasson speech, GOP Senator Aiken of Vermont carefully pointed out on the Senate floor last week that Ike didn't promise 100 per cent of parity.

"Before making that Kasson speech," said Aiken, chief defender of the Eisenhower farm bill, "President Eisenhower was very careful to word it so that it could not be mistaken as a promise to carry on rigid supports."

"Will the gentleman yield?" interrupted Aiken's fellow Republican, Case of South Dakota. "I was wondering if the senator were going to speak with reference to the speech the President made at Brookings, S. D.?"

"I did not intend to quote from that speech," replied Aiken. "It was an extemporaneous speech and was interpreted by those present to mean whatever they said it meant."

Actually Ike's Brookings, S. D., speech, October 4, 1952, was mimeographed and handed out to newsmen on the Eisenhower special train. It said:

"The Republican party is pledged to the sustaining of the 90 per cent parity price support and it is pledged even more than that to helping the farmer obtain his full parity, 100 per cent parity, with the guarantee in the price supports of 90."

Refuting the Democrats

After finishing his skirmish with South Dakota's Case, Aiken quoted from Democratic campaign literature in 1952 to show that the Democrats knew all along that Ike didn't mean what he said when he promised to continue high rigid farm supports.

But what Aiken didn't mention was that both Eisenhower and Nixon denounced this same Democratic literature during the '52 campaign. They said the Democrats were wrong in claiming that Ike hadn't meant what he said at Kasson.

"Malicious," was what Nixon called the Democratic handbook.

"I was outraged to hear recently," commented Eisenhower, "that an affiliate of the Democratic National Committee had published deliberate falsehoods. This folder was deliberately designed to frighten farmers into believing that our new administration would pull the rug out from under them."

The debate of some Midwest Republicans, such as Young and Case of the Dakotas and Hope of Kansas, indicates that they believe this was exactly what the Eisenhower administration did.

Italian Teamsters

Teamster Dave Beck, rotund, dynamic head of the world's biggest union, paid a visit to the Italian equivalent of the Teamsters Union during a recent visit to Rome.

He found independent labor unions, which were set back under Mussolini, still in relative infancy, with only 25,000 members in the Federazione Italiana Lavoratori Trasporti Ausiliari del Traffico, which is usually abbreviated to FILTAT and which, translated, means teamsters.

One reason for the weakness of the non-Communist Teamsters is that Moscow is spending $50,000,000 a year to organize Communist unions in Italy in opposition to the middle-of-the-road unions. Another reason is that FILTAT is so destitute that Gateano Abate, its national secretary, has to hitch-hike around the country when making business trips.

As a sign of friendship and cooperation, therefore, Beck presented Abate with a Fiat car. At the presentation ceremony, Beck made a speech in which he said:

"When you have as many Italians in FILTAT as the 100,000 we boast in the Teamsters then you will have a good union."

It later turned out that two of the 100,000 Italians in the AFL Teamsters Union in the U.S. are brothers of Gaetano Abate and drive trucks in Los Angeles.

More Indo Headaches

Ambassador Heath has warned the French they mst ditch playboy Emperor Boa Dai to keep Southern Indochina from falling into Communist hands. His warning was based on the fact that the Communists have made tremendous headway in Southern Indochina in recent weeks. There's grave danger natives in the South will vote for the Communists—unless a new and vigorous leader is found. Prediction: Bao Dai, who sat out the war on the French Riviera, hopping from one gambling table to another, will be booted out of office . . . Secretary Dulles has volunteered to give a series of hard-hitting foreign policy speeches just before the election. He will be one of the Republican party's big guns and will emphasize the so-called diplomatic victories in Iran, Egypt, and Guatemala, in an effort to make the public forget about the tremendous defeat in Indochina. . . Shortly before elections the State Department will publish a white paper on Indochina, aimed at blaming this Communist victory on the French. It will also blast the British for refusing to intervene with air power at a critical moment in the Indochina battle. . . Thailand has been quietly bracing for a Communist uprising. Premier Pibul Songgram has put the country under virtual martial law and made scores of precautionary arrests.

The IBM Race

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The nation's highest policy-making body, the National Security Council, might do well to call in a self-assertive, highly opinionated, former German general, called Walter Dornberger.

The National Security Council is currently "seized" with the problem of the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. The IBM, as it is known among the knowledgable, is the weapon which will be capable of flying half-way round the globe, at supersonic speed, carrying a hydrogen warhead. No one doubts that the IBM will one day be made, either in this country or in Russia. The question before the NSC is whether to embark on a major and ultimately very costly effort, patterned on the war-time Manhattan District, to make sure that the IBM is made in this country first.

On this point, Gen. Dornberger is worth listening to simply because, more than any other man, he is the father of the missile art. An engineer-scientist in civilian life, he was chosen by the German General Staff to head the war-time Peenemunde Rocket Research Institute. It was at Peenemunde that the V-2 supersonic missile, which bombarded Britain in the last months of the war, was made.

Knows Missiles Well

Dornberger talks in a heavy German accent, and with an absolute Teutonic assurance. This dogmatism might be irritating in another man, but in Dornberger it is impressive. For as a technical and engineering achievement, the V-2 is rated by some experts ahead of the atomic bomb itself. Moreover, Dornberger knows our own missile effort very much from the inside—he has been working here on missiles ever since the end of the war, first for the Pentagon, more recently for the Bell Aircraft Company.

He has also had access to the best estimates of Soviet missile progress. Thus when he assesses the race for the IBM, he speaks with considerable authority. He says very flatly that as of today the United States and the Soviet Union are about even in this race. He says also as flatly that the Russians are likely to take up to nine years to get an operational long range missile into the air, with six years as a minimum, whereas we could do the job in five years or conceivably less. But we will only win the race, Dornberger believes, on certain conditions.

To explain these conditions, he compares the past and the present.

The first V-2 hit London in September 1944. Churchill and Eisenhower have both written that the whole course of the war would have been changed if the weapon had been ready in quantity a few months earlier. Dornberger passionately believes that his beloved V-2 was unnecessarily delayed by at least a year.

Here in this country, Dornberger says, there are no Hitlerian dreams, no material shortages, no bombings. The American obsession with security, he says, is beginning to dry up the immensely stimulating free exchange of opinion which so impressed him when he first arrived here. But, he says judicially, the American security system still does not have the absolutely paralyzing effect of the Gestapo.

Too Much Red Tape

Yet in many ways, he says, it was easier to make missiles, even when the art was wholly unknown, even under the bombs, than it is here. He himself left the Pentagon for fear of strangling in red tape. "Over there," he says, "you could get a decision made. It was often wrong, but at least you knew where you stood. Now you have to get 25 men to make any decision, all generals, all changing their jobs and their minds all the time."

This country will only win the missiles race if the essential experimental part, at least, of the missile effort is taken right out of the Pentagon, Dornberger believes. What is needed is an organization in which the scientists and engineers have the freedom to experiment without justifying their every move to "27 generals." Above all, as in the Manhattan District, one man must be given the power to decide.

This view of Dornberger's is shared by the great majority of the most distinguished American scientists. This, indeed, is why the NSC is seized with the problem. There is bitter resistance to a Manhattan District effort — from the services which will lose empires, and from the economizers, since the effort will be very costly in the long run.

Yet the stakes are high. For, as Gen. Dornberger told our intelligence services in 1945, the nation which first fully masters the new missile art will "lead mankind into the future."

Dorothy Dix Was Reformer And Good Samaritan

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The name of Dorothy Dix is well known in these United States. One gave advice to the lovelorn; the other lived a century earlier and devoted her life to improving the lot of lunatics and paupers. This Dorothy remained obscure because she shunned publicity but, during the past decade, the history of her life has been resurrected and her deeds extolled.

Dorothy Dix was born in 1802. Her father, a religious fanatic, made her life so unhappy she left home when only 10 years old and went to live with her grandmother in Boston. She was teaching school at the age of 14 and soon established a school for young girls that she conducted until she was 33.

The incident that motivated her future course took place one morning when she was teaching Sunday school in the House of Correction in East Cambridge, Mass. It was not unusual in those days to keep the insane in jail, and Miss Dix was so shocked at the plight of four insane persons, she decided to do something about it.

To appreciate what Dorothy Dix accomplished, we must realize that prior to the Civil War the insane were regarded as brutes and treated as beasts. Other reformers had preceded her, such as Piel in France and Tuke in the United States, but by 1840 there were only eight mental institutions in this country where their enlightened ideas were being practiced.

This was not nearly enough to supply the needs of the day. Miss Dix, who lived to be 87, witnessed the building of more than 110 institutions, of which 75 were built by the various states.

According to the historian, Stewart H. Holbrook, Miss Dix used an effective means to bring about reform. She began in a quiet way to gather data by visiting every jail, almshouse, and other hellhole in which the insane were housed. She had talked to the keepers and made detailed notes on the care (or lack of it) of each patient. After two years of investigation in Massachusetts her files were complete and she went to the state legislature and presented reams of undeniable facts.

The legislature and citizens were shocked at the deplorable conditions she revealed. She told how the mentally afflicted were chained to bare walls in freezing cubicles, without adequate clothing or protection. With the backing of influential citizens, she persuaded one state after another to appropriate money to build adequate institutions.

In this way, Dorothy Dix followed in the footsteps of Philippe Pinel, the French physician who risked his life by removing the chains that bound the insane in a Paris hospital. He believed that many of these unforunates improved when treated with kindness rather than brutality.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Old Colonel Archer, up from Kentucky, was describing his daily routine to a delighted group in Toots Shor's New York restaurant. "For breakfast," proclaimed the Colonel, "I ask only for a quart of bourbon, a pound of beefsteak, an' my ol' houn' dog." "What do you need the houn' dog for?", asked Toots. "The houn' dog," explained Colonel Archer, "eats the beefsteak."

An old moneybags latched on to a provocative blonde of 20 at Palm Beach — or could it be that she latched on to him? — married her, and brought her home to his Fifth Avenue mansion, where the butler eyed her with all the warmth and fervor of a dead codfish.

"Isn't she a humdinger?" whispered the old goat triumphantly.

"Could be, sir," ventured the butler, "but I do hate to see a man begin a full day's work so very late in the afternoon."

FRUIT MEALS

R. M. writes: Is it harmful to eat nothing but different fruits at one meal?

REPLY

No, as fruits provide various nutritional factors. There is no danger in limiting one meal to fruits, provided other foods are consumed at breakfast and dinner. Otherwise the body is deprived of valuable elements present in other foods.

PRESSURIZED CABINS

W. C. writes: I have otosclerosis, with the formation of bone around the stapes of the ears and partial loss of hearing. Will taking an airplane trip make my ear condition worse?

REPLY

No. Most planes are pressurized, which minimizes the effect of altitude on the ears.

WINTER HOGS

S. D. writes: Is it dangerous to eat hog meat from animals killed in the winter time?

REPLY

Not when the hogs are butchered by reliable meat packers. These establishments follow government regulations on meat processing and food handling.

SCIATIC PAIN

F. N. writes: Does a person ever get over sciatica from slipped disk without surgery? I'm too old for operation (age 79).

REPLY

Yes, but treatment requires traction, corsets, and casts. When symptoms persist, however, the chances are lessened that spontaneous cure will occur.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Wynn Bags 16th Over Detroit, Ford 13th Over Athletics

Indians Blank Tigers For 8th Victory In Row

Avila, Smith Wallop Homers In 4-0 Game; Ford Fans Nine A's

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP)—Scoring all their runs on homers by Bob Avila and Al Smith, the Cleveland Indians defeated Detroit 4-0 today for their eighth victory in a row. The shutout was the 16th victory for Early Wynn who scattered six Tiger hits.

The triumph boosted the Tribe's American League lead to 3½ games, and the second-place New York Yankees must win in Philadelphia tonight to cut the gap back to three games.

The Indians have lost only one game in their last 13 and only six out of 34 since the All-Star game recess, when their margin over the Yanks was a mere ½ game.

It was the fourth time Early had tried to win No. 16, and until Avila's homer put Cleveland ahead 1-0 in the sixth, the Tribe had failed to score a run behind Wynn in 28 innings of play.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft limited the Indians to five hits, and had allowed only one single until Avila blasted his 13th homer of the season.

Smith's homer followed a walk and Wynn's second single of the game.

The Tigers hit Wynn in each of the first four innings and got two walks from him in the fifth, but they were unable to produce a run.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—The New York Yankees, working hard to narrow the gap between them and the league-leading Cleveland Indians, defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 tonight. Whitey Ford, getting his 13th victory, struck out nine batters.

The Yanks made Alex Kellner a losing pitcher for the 15th time.

Five of his setbacks were by the Yankees. The big lefthander has yet to beat New York.

The visitors made the seventh their big inning with Bill Skowron batting Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra home with a triple to left field.

Philadelphia's only run was made by Vic Power in the second with a double, backed up by Bill Wilson's single and Joe DeMaestri's long fly.

Turner Scores Over Andrews

Gil Cops Unanimous Verdict At Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—In a battle of savage flurries that left both fighters battered and groggy before it was over, Gil Turner tonight gained a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews and started back on his way to welterweight contention.

The 23-year-old Turner, only a mild success as a middleweight since being stopped in the 11th by champion Kid Gavilan in a 147-pound titlescrap two years ago, found a tiger in Andrews.

Seldom has a fighter absorbed such a beating in Chicago Stadium as the superior, Wis., youth and then finished so strongly.

By the last round, Andrews, also 23, blasted Turner with long rights and left hooks and had him rocking, but the Philadelphia Negro had an overwhelming margin in points.

Andrews was outweighed by one pound, 153 to 152.

Spahn Victor, 3-1

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Warren Spahn fired a five-hitter at the St. Louis Cardinals tonight as the Milwaukee Braves jumped back on the victory wagon with a 3-1 triumph, their 21st in the last 24 games.

Roger Manges Fans 13 As Dan Senators Belt Red Sox, 10-2

Roger Manges turned in a three-hit pitching performance and fanned 13 as the Senators trimmed the Red Sox last night in the opening game of their playoff series in the Dapper Dan Little League. The score was 10-2.

The Pirates and Indians are the other semi-finalists in the playoffs.

All of the hits yielded by Manges in the game at Penn Avenue Field were credited to Cousins who smacked a double and two singles.

Consuegra Beats Baltimore, 4-1

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sandy Consuegra got his 15th victory the easy way tonight by pitching only the first five innings while his Chicago mates went on to expand a one-run lead into a 4-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Paul Richards yanked Conseugra with a 2-1 lead for a pinchhitter in the top of the sixth. The move failed then, but two innings later the White Sox doubled their score for the benefit of the absentee Consuegra.

Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish, meanwhile, held the Orioles down on the mound as relief.

Chicago's first three batters carried the brunt of the attack, Chico Carrasquel getting three singles, Nellie Fox a single and double, and Minnie Minoso two singles and a triple.

Frostburg's Demons moved within a half game of the fourth place Cumberland Old Germans by defeating Westvaco's Papermakers yesterday in the Mountain City by the score of 7-5.

The Westvaco defeat enabled Moorefield's idle American Legion team to clinch the first pennant in the All-States Baseball Association. Moorefield leads by 4½ games and has three more games to play. Four games remain on the Westvaco schedule.

Frostburg, trying to overtake Cumberland in the battle for the fourth place berth, has four games on its schedule while Cumberland has three.

Harry McFarland gained the verdict over Hubert Nicol in yesterday's contest. Nicol was supplanted by Lefty Jack Brodie in the sixth inning.

McFarland yielded eight hits, fanned four and walked two. His season record is now 4-2. Nicol has won four games and lost three. The Westvaco pitchers fanned six batsmen each.

Lou Baker headed the Demons' nine-hit attack with two singles and a triple. Barney Spearman banged a triple and single, "Chuck" Eirich larruped a triple and Hugh Nolan garnered a two-bagger. "Bud" Mosser has three hits and Elmer Marsh and Leo Ryan two each for the losers.

Olson, Castellani Handlers Disagree On Weigh-In Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—An hour's difference in proposed weigh-in times developed into a fair-sized hassle today for the 15-round title fight here Friday night between world middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson and contender Rocky Castellani.

Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, is holding out for a 10 a.m. scale balancing ceremony. Al Naiman, who pilots Castellani, wanted a noon weigh-in but will settle for 11 a.m.

"The state athletic commission will not be dictated to," bellowed local commissioner Joe Phillips. He said he would set the Friday weigh-in time tomorrow.

Naiman and his advisor, Jack Kearns, claim that an early visit to the scales will benefit the champion no end.

"Olson is having a tough time making the weight," Kearns said. "Their plan is to have him dry out Thursday night. After making the 160 pound limit, he will have plenty of time to put on more poundage."

The nationally televised bout will go on at the Cow Palace at 10 p.m. EDT.

Price Horses Win Two; Hunters Glory Payoff Is $28.60

Horses owned by Enoch P. Price and his son of Frostburg won two races and took show money in another yesterday at the Wheeling Downs (W.Va.) track.

Hurry Beacon romped home the winner of the second and returned $7.80, $4.20 and $3.20.

Hunters Glory, a winner at the Fairgo June meeting, won the fourth and rewarded backers with the handsome return of $28.60. The place price was $8.80 and the show price $6.20.

R. L. Belanger was aboard both winners.

Another Price-owned horse, Rectortown, ridden by L. Rivera, finished third in the 5th race and paid $4.40 for $2.

Jim Piersall's Arm Is X-Rayed

BOSTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — Jimmy Piersall's ailing right arm was X-rayed today in an effort to determine whether the Boston Red Sox outfielder has a serious injury or just a sore throwing weapon. Results of the examination will be made known later.

Piersall was sent home from Washington last night after reporting to Manager Lou Boudreau "the arm hurts like blazes."

The strong-throwing Piersall apparently suffered an injury here Monday night in an accuracy throwing contest against the New York Giants' Willie Mays, a feature of a program preceding a benefit exhibition game.

Reports from Washington were that Boudreau is considering banning the Sox players from such contests hereafter because of the Piersall injury, on the theory that Jimmy might have put an extra, and needless strain on his arm.

Andy's Wallops PBC For Tenth Win, 12-1

Bill Campbell Wins Canadian Amateur Tests

Cherry Is Eliminated By Joseph le Blanc

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 18 (AP)—A spritely French-Canadian—Joseph le Blanc of Montreal—wrecked favorites from two nations today in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship, and completely spoiled the tournament for defending champion Don Cherry.

The 33-year-old Le Blanc—whose only claim to golfing fame was the Quebec Amateur championship in 1950—dealt a double dose of upset poison to Cherry, Wichita Falls, Tex., crooner, and to Fernando Mendez, Mexico's last hope.

Le Blanc whipped Mendez 5 and 4 in the morning, then came back to stun Cherry one up in the afternoon round over the par 70, 6,480-yard London Hunt and Country Club course.

His unexpected victory over Cherry—who left the course in a huff—overshadowed the defeat of two top-ranking Americans, Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., and Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City.

Nine Americans shot their way through the two rounds of elimination. The U. S. contingent was headed by Harvie Ward of San Francisco; Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.; Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., and Billy Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga.

Campbell, runnerup in this year's British Amateur, was a late finisher and scored victories over Glenn Gray of Edmonton, 3 and 2, and Merv Moxley of Winnipeg, 2-up.

Mt. Savage Whips LaVale, Cresaptown Tops Midland

Fleegle Beats LaVale, 6-3; Lawrence's Pinch Hit Sinks Midland, 4-3

Mt. Savage's pennant winning aggregation defeated LaVale, 6-3, and Cresaptown edged Midland, 4-3, in the opening games of the Bi-State Pony Baseball League playoffs yesterday at Mt. Savage and Midland.

Wayne "Lefty" Fleegle, an 11-1 winner during the regular league campaign, turned back LaVale with three hits and blazed the third strike past 16 as Mt. Savage romped to victory.

One of the blows yielded by Fleegle was Kenny Klosterman's third inning homer. Klosterman, who relieved Jimmy Deremer behind the plate after the latter suffered an injured finger in the first inning also collected a single to account for two of the losers' hits.

Mt. Savage led LaVale 2-1 until the fourth when Guy Martin belted a three-run homer to put the game on ice. Gale Thomas rapped a pair of singles for the winning team.

Tommy Douthitt pitched Cresaptown to victory over Midland in a game that was decided in the top of the seevnth in a timely single by Finch-hitter Donnie Lawrence. Dick Hedrick had led off the inning with a single, advanced to second on an infield out and scored the run that broke a 3-3 deadlock when Lawrence, hitting for Stouffer, smacked a single to left field.

Hobell, losing pitcher, struck out 14, and yielded 12 hits. Dick Hedrick hit safely three times while Gary McKenzie and Jerry Cutshall had two safeties each. Spiker and L. Jenkins shared four of the eight hits yielded by Douthitt who struck out five.

The second games of the best-of-three series are set for Saturday. Midland plays at Cresaptown at 2:30 o'clock while the Mt. Savage at LaVale tilt is scheduled for 5:30.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (INS) — I missed Barbara Rush and Rock Hudson in Europe. I didn't get to Ireland, and when they came to London I had left. Now Barbara's home and she telephoned to tell me she's going to Mexico to see her husband, Jeff Hunter, who is there making "White Feather" for 20th Century-Fox.

Said Barbara, "I was simply shocked when I came home to find there had been rumors that Jeff and I had had trouble. Our only trouble is that we've been separated so much. It's very hard when I go on location so many miles away, and he's miles and miles away from me on his picture."

She told me that Rock Hudson won't be back until September. He's going to the film festival in Venice, as are Van Johnson and other American stars in Europe.

Dr. Clifford Loos telephoned to say au revoir. He's off for London to see his daughter, Mary Anita Sale, and to Paris to see his sister, Anita Loos. He'll have a great time with Anita — wish I could have stayed long enough to be with them.

When I saw Mary Anita and Richard Sale in London they were busily working on "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes." They're expecting Jane Russell and Jeanne Crain in September, and now Rudy Vallee leaves the strawhat circuit which he's been touring, to join the cast. His role is that of a man who 30 years ago was the hit of Broadway. Pretty good casting, eh what?

At a party given for me in London Marjorie Steele walked in with her husband, Huntington Hartford.

She is the star of the London company of "Sabrina Fair" and she has worked with a dramatic coach night and day to perfect herself.

All those who said that Marjorie was just a rich man's wife pursuing a hobby may have to eat their words. Her notices were very good. Marjorie was a cigarette girl at Ciro's when she met her multimillionaire husband.

Most of the studios, I find, are having a summer lull, but there was no lull, believe me, at RKO Pathe when Gordon Scott, newest of the Tarzans, found himself staring right into a lion's face after the front of the jungle king's cage came off in his hand — Gordon's, that is.

Both Gordon and the lion were scared to death and just looked at each other. "Don't be frightened," the trainer said, "he can't bite with no teeth."

"But," gasped Gordon, "he can still eat can't he!"

Imagine having your honeymoon stopped! That's what happened to Cy Howard and Gloria Grahame. They were all but on the boat headed for Honolulu when they had to call the whole thing off.

Cy was told he must report to Hal Wallis as associate producer for "The Paris Story," the Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis comedy.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

During the hot days of late summer, sleep seems more elusive than at any other time. Yet sleep is a health requirement to keep you going when the hot late-summer sunshine gives your vitality a beating.

A reorientation of your slumber habits will help you to fall asleep more easily and to sleep more restfully. Only peaceful sleep restores to their healthy state the muscles and other cellular tissues depleted by the day's activities; off-and-on slumber leaves you as tired when you get up as when you went to bed!

Try eating a lighter supper than usual. Dispense with tea or coffee if you suspect that caffeine keeps you awake . . . scientifically, it doesn't — psychologically, it may! If you can't relax all evening, at least devote a few moments to quiet relaxation before bedtime — a crossword puzzle, reading, knitting — to give nerves a chance to taper off. Next, a warm bath, a light rubdown; nothing energetic, for that will bounce you awake.

Less Disturbance

Reduce the physical disturbances as much as possible; street noises and loud-ticking clocks are annoying. Use ear plugs if there is no other way to dispense with noises and combine fresh air with a dark, sound-free room.

Put worries out of your mind by musing on pleasant topics. Ease the tension from both mind and body by lying flat on your back, doing easy arm and leg exercises in slow motion. An excellent tension remover is to imagine yourself a sack of grain; first th sack is tightly bound, then someone starts to pour the grain from the sack which is your body; as the "sack" is gradually emptied, it becomes gradually more limp, just as your body should do.

Is your bed comfortable? Your pillow? A pillow of foam latex, without lumps or sags, is more conducive to easy sleep than is a pillow so hard or so soft that it lacks proper cushioning effect.

Do's And Dont's

Many mental and physical matters affect your ability to sleep. Is your diet adequate? Are you getting enough exercise? Are you overworked? Do you allow enough hours out of every 24 for sleep? Do you go to bed at a regular time and rise at a regular hour? Are you in a good humor when you're ready to fall asleep? Are you bathed, brushed, and creamed? To get the most from your beauty sleep, you must be a sleeping beauty!

You know which of these questions should have "yes" answer, and which should be answered negatively. You're just keeping yourself awake if the negatives and positives don't add up. If they do, your slumber song can't be anything but contented.

Life Imprisonment For Sex Offenders

Judge Morgan C. Harris has served notice that sex offenders will not be tolerated in Allegany County and he deserves public commendation for his action, aimed at protecting young children.

Yesterday in Circuit Court Judge Harris sentenced to life imprisonment two Cumberland men found guilty of statutory rape of two minor girls.

We know that Judge Harris gave long, considered study to both cases before passing sentence because it is no easy matter for one man to tell two others they are to be confined in prison for the rest of their natural lives.

The thoughts he faced and the emotions that confronted him were referred to briefly when he said in court: "The humanity of the law feels and regrets every pain it causes, the hours of restraint it imposes. The criminal law must of necessity use evil as the means of preventing greater evil. It seeks to deter from crime by the example of punishment. This is the true and only true object."

In passing sentence, Judge Harris recognized the hurt suffered by the innocent, friends and family, when a wrongdoer is punished, but as he pointed out, "Even that cannot deter justice."

The life term imposed is a severe sentence to compensate as far as compensation is possible in such matters for a serious, revolting and heinous crime.

Judge Harris put it succinctly when he passed sentence:

"A man who gains the confidence of a little female child and defiles her virtue thereby forfeits his right to circulate in society.

"Crimes of this nature are committed in a calculated manner which makes them more atrocious. They outrage the average individual."

The sentences are ample warning to sex offenders that they cannot practice here. Judge Harris' determination to rid this community of such wrongdoers and his courage in meting out the severe sentences we know is reassuring to mothers and fathers of this community. He deserves their appreciation.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

On The Republican Schism

The schism within the Republican party is not a family quarrel. To understand it at all, it must be recognized that from 1932 to 1952, a large number of men and women, often at great personal sacrifice, did the chores of keeping an unpopular party together. During that 20-year period, numerous Republicans passed over to the New Deal, some, such as Henry Wallace, Harold Ickes, Frank Knox and Henry Stimson, taking office in Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet.

There was hope in 1940 among Republicans that they might carry the country on the third term issue. Party workers hoped that the candidate would be either Robert A. Taft or Thomas E. Dewey; they were elbowed out by an effective public relations campaign organized by a group in the National Association of Manufacturers who projected Wendell Willkie, a Democrat, a former county committeeman in Tammany Hall.

(It has often been denied that the National Association of Manufacturers had anything to do with this. Such a denial is only correct in the sense that no direct formal action was taken and none was necessary. I was then associated with the NAM and speak of my own knowledge that the first projection of Willkie was from this NAM group.)

Most organization Republicans resented Willkie and enough of them stayed away from the polls on election day. Willkie's subsequent close relations with Roosevelt and with New Deal and even left wing groups further alienated him from organization Republicans. "Freedom House" in New York rather than the Republican party is symbolic of Willkie's short career in politics.

The Republican party was largely held together by the conservative element which followed the leadership of Robert A. Taft and the guidance of Herbert Hoover. However, it must be noted that the other important leader of this party was Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York but who also gathered about him those elements in the party who were opposed to what they called, "isolationism."

In the 1952 Republican Convention, it can be said that there were two distinct political parties meeting under one roof, each claiming control of the Republican party. One was led by Robert A. Taft; the other by Thomas E. Dewey. The wounds of that convention have never healed, although Taft, in his last months, ministered to them.

Lord Josiah Stamp, the British economist, once made this important point:

". . . We have seen country after country making a mess of democratic forms, either getting so many parties representing every shade of opinion in the law-making machine that there have been delay and deadlock in government, or else consolidating into two parties so that the majority of voters find their own views blotted out by large masses of compromise, indistinguishable details in highest common factors that certainly get things done, but give no shade of opinion an outlet."

For want of a better designation, those who regard themselves as Taft Republicans now feel that their "shade of opinion," traditional in their party, is being blotted out. They find that two elements prevail in their party:

1. The present Dewey group whom they have resisted for 10 years, more or less;

2. New Dealers, political opportunists, ADA Republicans, CIO Republicans, Eisenhower personal friends, the so-called internationalists who worked with Roosevelt, Truman, Marshall, Acheson and against whom the Republicans waged the 1952 campaign.

For a while in 1953, particularly when Taft was alive, both sides fought for Eisenhower's ear and friendship. In those days there was no opposition to Eisenhower.

It can be said that the feeling among Taft Republicans is that the ADA is gaining control of both parties and that such a figure as Paul Hoffman, to mention one name, is the transmission belt for that purpose. This, for instance, is the attitude that large numbers of Republicans in New Jersey are taking toward the senatorial candidacy of Clifford Case.

From the standpoint of realistic politics, the President will have to purge the Republican party of the conservative elements or he will have to find a selfish formula for placating some of them. It is too late to do much about it for the 1954 campaign, but should the conservative Republicans gain strength in the Senate or should the Democrats gain either House in the next election, only a change of attitude in the White House can save this party from disintegration.

Congress Shows Contempt For Communists In U. S.

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The dramatic effort of Congress trying in the last few days of the session to write a bill that will reflect its deep-seated contempt for the Communist party in the United States is unquestionably evidence of the nation's alertness to the dangers of infiltration by subversive elements.

Since Republicans and Democrats in both the House and the Senate joined by overwhelming votes to approve various proposals of different phraseology—but all of them rendering the Communist organization illegal as a political party and calling it a conspiracy—there can be little doubt that many months of agitation on this subject have finally had a cumulative effect.

For Martin Dies, Democrat, long the foe of the Communists and the man who was berated by the Roosevelt administration for "seeing Reds every night under the bed," it has been an experience in vindication as he sees the Democratic party leaders sponsoring his bill to outlaw the Communist party, while the Republicans join in passing it.

Creates New Problems

But, unfortunately, some of the new problems to be created by the bill just passed are greater for the enforcement agencies of the government than they have been before, and perhaps the new bill is so worded that it will be rendered inoperative in part when the courts get to examining the constitutionality of some of the phrases.

The administration did not handle itself too well on the issue, and Republicans in Congress found themselves outmaneuvered by Democrats, though so far as the country is concerned there will not be too much concern over the fact that the Democrats and Republicans vied with each other to outlaw the Communist party.

The Department of Justice wanted the powers so phrased that it could prosecute the leaders and those who teach the overthrow of government. It has not been prepared for the task of putting 25,000 Communists in jail, which is what is called for if the pending bill becomes law. For the new measure would require that all Communist members be arrested and tried. The guide for juries would be to convict anyone who has been listed as a member or contributed money to the Communist party or has made himself subject to its discipline or has written or spoken in any way that carried out the plans of the Communist organization. But it stipulates that an alleged member must be proved to have known the purposes of the organization.

There were objections from some of the constitutional lawyers in the Senate but because of the politics—that is, the hazard of being recorded against anything which condemns the Communist party—the vote was virtually unanimous in every instance.

Presidential Veto Unlikely

The fact remains that trying to write laws on the floor of the Senate or House is not conducive to the enactment of clear-cut legislation. It may well be that the effort to load down the measure with clauses impossible to enforce or conflicting with sections of existing laws against subversives will so confuse the issue as to make difficult the actual attainment of the objectives of the legislation.

There has been talk of a presidential veto—which, politically at least, would embarrass the President—but this is not likely. The tendency nowadays is to accept unpalatable legislation and seek immediate amendment at the next session, and that's probably the wisest course to follow, especially with an election coming on in November.

All sorts of predictions are made that the new measure, if enacted, will be held invalid by the courts but, to save other sections of the bill, what is known as a "separability clause" has been attached so that, if one part is held unconstitutional, that will not affect the validity of the other parts.

One thing is clear—this Congress is well aware that Communists must be uprooted and that infiltration in labor unions and American institutions of all kinds must be stopped. Whether the votes just recorded by the Democrats in Congress will spare them the "20 years of treason" type of attack in the coming campaign or whether the Republicans will nevertheless point to the belated nature of the voting to outlaw the Communist party, the fact remains that it's almost unanimous—nearly everybody in Congress wants to see the Communist influence driven out of America.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Question is will Ike run for the 1956 door prize? The answer is yes.

At this stage of the game it looks like it had been postponed by the whether.

They're figuring out the direction of the cat jumps in the feline olympics.

We'll buzz you a secret very few people don't know. If the Demmies trap November's Congress Ike will still renew his option. His opponent will be the everblooming Adlai Stevenson, the talking man.

Nobody ever said Stevenson isn't a good man. The trouble is nobody ever said he was a bad one.

If Ike likes the aftermath of the November opinions he is in. The wind shows who's pulling the short straws.

In case he chucks it the heir-apparent is Nixon. If the shoe fits he will try on the homburg.

Some folks think Governor Dewey is entitled to the third strike. The old guard isn't peeverated because Tom missed the boat twice. What makes it choke on its own wattles is the boat was in dry-dock.

Tom makes a mighty fine governor. But there is something about the touch of high life that makes a man want to refuel in mid-air. After a fellow's governor he wants to do something important.

That frames the picture with Bricker and Stassen willing to ride the band-wagon instead of the rear-end caliope.

Debate In Farm Belt Over Farm Bill May Decide Control Of Congress

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—The bitter farm debate is now over as far as Congress is concerned, but it promises to ricochet back and forth across the farm belt for many months to come. Upon its outcome may depend who controls the next Congress of the United States.

Already Bill Thatcher's Farmers Union radio program in Minnesota has been booming out the familiar quote of General Eisenhower at the Kasson, Minn., plowing contest appearing to favor 100 per cent parity price supports.

Realizing the potential political dynamite in the Kasson speech, GOP Senator Aiken of Vermont carefully pointed out on the Senate floor last week that Ike didn't promise 100 per cent of parity.

"Before making that Kasson speech," said Aiken, chief defender of the Eisenhower farm bill, "President Eisenhower was very careful to word it so that it could not be mistaken as a promise to carry on rigid supports."

"Will the gentleman yield?" interrupted Aiken's fellow Republican, Case of South Dakota. "I was wondering if the senator were going to speak with reference to the speech the President made at Brookings, S. D.?"

"I did not intend to quote from that speech," replied Aiken. "It was an extemporaneous speech and was interpreted by those present to mean whatever they said it meant."

Actually Ike's Brookings, S. D., speech, October 4, 1952, was mimeographed and handed out to newsmen on the Eisenhower special train. It said:

"The Republican party is pledged to the sustaining of the 90 per cent parity price support and it is pledged even more than that to helping the farmer obtain his full parity, 100 per cent parity, with the guarantee in the price supports of 90."

Refuting the Democrats

After finishing his skirmish with South Dakota's Case, Aiken quoted from Democratic campaign literature in 1952 to show that the Democrats knew all along that Ike didn't mean what he said when he promised to continue high rigid farm supports.

But what Aiken didn't mention was that both Eisenhower and Nixon denounced this same Democratic literature during the '52 campaign. They said the Democrats were wrong in claiming that Ike hadn't meant what he said at Kasson.

"Malicious," was what Nixon called the Democratic handbook.

"I was outraged to hear recently," commented Eisenhower, "that an affiliate of the Democratic National Committee had published deliberate falsehoods. This folder was deliberately designed to frighten farmers into believing that our new administration would pull the rug out from under them."

The debate of some Midwest Republicans, such as Young and Case of the Dakotas and Hope of Kansas, indicates that they believe this was exactly what the Eisenhower administration did.

Italian Teamsters

Teamster Dave Beck, rotund, dynamic head of the world's biggest union, paid a visit to the Italian equivalent of the Teamsters Union during a recent visit to Rome.

He found independent labor unions, which were set back under Mussolini, still in relative infancy, with only 25,000 members in the Federazione Italiana Lavoratori Trasporti Ausiliari del Traffico, which is usually abbreviated to FILTAT and which, translated, means teamsters.

One reason for the weakness of the non-Communist Teamsters is that Moscow is spending $50,000,000 a year to organize Communist unions in Italy in opposition to the middle-of-the-road unions. Another reason is that FILTAT is so destitute that Gateano Abate, its national secretary, has to hitch-hike around the country when making business trips.

As a sign of friendship and cooperation, therefore, Beck presented Abate with a Fiat car. At the presentation ceremony, Beck made a speech in which he said:

"When you have as many Italians in FILTAT as the 100,000 we boast in the Teamsters then you will have a good union."

It later turned out that two of the 100,000 Italians in the AFL Teamsters Union in the U.S. are brothers of Gaetano Abate and drive trucks in Los Angeles.

More Indo Headaches

Ambassador Heath has warned the French they mst ditch playboy Emperor Boa Dai to keep Southern Indochina from falling into Communist hands. His warning was based on the fact that the Communists have made tremendous headway in Southern Indochina in recent weeks. There's grave danger natives in the South will vote for the Communists—unless a new and vigorous leader is found. Prediction: Bao Dai, who sat out the war on the French Riviera, hopping from one gambling table to another, will be booted out of office . . . Secretary Dulles has volunteered to give a series of hard-hitting foreign policy speeches just before the election. He will be one of the Republican party's big guns and will emphasize the so-called diplomatic victories in Iran, Egypt, and Guatemala, in an effort to make the public forget about the tremendous defeat in Indochina. . . Shortly before elections the State Department will publish a white paper on Indochina, aimed at blaming this Communist victory on the French. It will also blast the British for refusing to intervene with air power at a critical moment in the Indochina battle. . . Thailand has been quietly bracing for a Communist uprising. Premier Pibul Songgram has put the country under virtual martial law and made scores of precautionary arrests.

The IBM Race

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The nation's highest policy-making body, the National Security Council, might do well to call in a self-assertive, highly opinionated, former German general, called Walter Dornberger.

The National Security Council is currently "seized" with the problem of the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. The IBM, as it is known among the knowledgable, is the weapon which will be capable of flying half-way round the globe, at supersonic speed, carrying a hydrogen warhead. No one doubts that the IBM will one day be made, either in this country or in Russia. The question before the NSC is whether to embark on a major and ultimately very costly effort, patterned on the war-time Manhattan District, to make sure that the IBM is made in this country first.

On this point, Gen. Dornberger is worth listening to simply because, more than any other man, he is the father of the missile art. An engineer-scientist in civilian life, he was chosen by the German General Staff to head the war-time Peenemunde Rocket Research Institute. It was at Peenemunde that the V-2 supersonic missile, which bombarded Britain in the last months of the war, was made.

Knows Missiles Well

Dornberger talks in a heavy German accent, and with an absolute Teutonic assurance. This dogmatism might be irritating in another man, but in Dornberger it is impressive. For as a technical and engineering achievement, the V-2 is rated by some experts ahead of the atomic bomb itself. Moreover, Dornberger knows our own missile effort very much from the inside—he has been working here on missiles ever since the end of the war, first for the Pentagon, more recently for the Bell Aircraft Company.

He has also had access to the best estimates of Soviet missile progress. Thus when he assesses the race for the IBM, he speaks with considerable authority. He says very flatly that as of today the United States and the Soviet Union are about even in this race. He says also as flatly that the Russians are likely to take up to nine years to get an operational long range missile into the air, with six years as a minimum, whereas we could do the job in five years or conceivably less. But we will only win the race, Dornberger believes, on certain conditions.

To explain these conditions, he compares the past and the present.

The first V-2 hit London in September 1944. Churchill and Eisenhower have both written that the whole course of the war would have been changed if the weapon had been ready in quantity a few months earlier. Dornberger passionately believes that his beloved V-2 was unnecessarily delayed by at least a year.

Here in this country, Dornberger says, there are no Hitlerian dreams, no material shortages, no bombings. The American obsession with security, he says, is beginning to dry up the immensely stimulating free exchange of opinion which so impressed him when he first arrived here. But, he says judicially, the American security system still does not have the absolutely paralyzing effect of the Gestapo.

Too Much Red Tape

Yet in many ways, he says, it was easier to make missiles, even when the art was wholly unknown, even under the bombs, than it is here. He himself left the Pentagon for fear of strangling in red tape. "Over there," he says, "you could get a decision made. It was often wrong, but at least you knew where you stood. Now you have to get 25 men to make any decision, all generals, all changing their jobs and their minds all the time."

This country will only win the missiles race if the essential experimental part, at least, of the missile effort is taken right out of the Pentagon, Dornberger believes. What is needed is an organization in which the scientists and engineers have the freedom to experiment without justifying their every move to "27 generals." Above all, as in the Manhattan District, one man must be given the power to decide.

This view of Dornberger's is shared by the great majority of the most distinguished American scientists. This, indeed, is why the NSC is seized with the problem. There is bitter resistance to a Manhattan District effort — from the services which will lose empires, and from the economizers, since the effort will be very costly in the long run.

Yet the stakes are high. For, as Gen. Dornberger told our intelligence services in 1945, the nation which first fully masters the new missile art will "lead mankind into the future."

Dorothy Dix Was Reformer And Good Samaritan

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The name of Dorothy Dix is well known in these United States. One gave advice to the lovelorn; the other lived a century earlier and devoted her life to improving the lot of lunatics and paupers. This Dorothy remained obscure because she shunned publicity but, during the past decade, the history of her life has been resurrected and her deeds extolled.

Dorothy Dix was born in 1802. Her father, a religious fanatic, made her life so unhappy she left home when only 10 years old and went to live with her grandmother in Boston. She was teaching school at the age of 14 and soon established a school for young girls that she conducted until she was 33.

The incident that motivated her future course took place one morning when she was teaching Sunday school in the House of Correction in East Cambridge, Mass. It was not unusual in those days to keep the insane in jail, and Miss Dix was so shocked at the plight of four insane persons, she decided to do something about it.

To appreciate what Dorothy Dix accomplished, we must realize that prior to the Civil War the insane were regarded as brutes and treated as beasts. Other reformers had preceded her, such as Piel in France and Tuke in the United States, but by 1840 there were only eight mental institutions in this country where their enlightened ideas were being practiced.

This was not nearly enough to supply the needs of the day. Miss Dix, who lived to be 87, witnessed the building of more than 110 institutions, of which 75 were built by the various states.

According to the historian, Stewart H. Holbrook, Miss Dix used an effective means to bring about reform. She began in a quiet way to gather data by visiting every jail, almshouse, and other hellhole in which the insane were housed. She had talked to the keepers and made detailed notes on the care (or lack of it) of each patient. After two years of investigation in Massachusetts her files were complete and she went to the state legislature and presented reams of undeniable facts.

The legislature and citizens were shocked at the deplorable conditions she revealed. She told how the mentally afflicted were chained to bare walls in freezing cubicles, without adequate clothing or protection. With the backing of influential citizens, she persuaded one state after another to appropriate money to build adequate institutions.

In this way, Dorothy Dix followed in the footsteps of Philippe Pinel, the French physician who risked his life by removing the chains that bound the insane in a Paris hospital. He believed that many of these unforunates improved when treated with kindness rather than brutality.

FRUIT MEALS

R. M. writes: Is it harmful to eat nothing but different fruits at one meal?

REPLY

No, as fruits provide various nutritional factors. There is no danger in limiting one meal to fruits, provided other foods are consumed at breakfast and dinner. Otherwise the body is deprived of valuable elements present in other foods.

PRESSURIZED CABINS

W. C. writes: I have otosclerosis, with the formation of bone around the stapes of the ears and partial loss of hearing. Will taking an airplane trip make my ear condition worse?

REPLY

No. Most planes are pressurized, which minimizes the effect of altitude on the ears.

WINTER HOGS

S. D. writes: Is it dangerous to eat hog meat from animals killed in the winter time?

REPLY

Not when the hogs are butchered by reliable meat packers. These establishments follow government regulations on meat processing and food handling.

SCIATIC PAIN

F. N. writes: Does a person ever get over sciatica from slipped disk without surgery? I'm too old for operation (age 79).

REPLY

Yes, but treatment requires traction, corsets, and casts. When symptoms persist, however, the chances are lessened that spontaneous cure will occur.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Old Colonel Archer, up from Kentucky, was describing his daily routine to a delighted group in Toots Shor's New York restaurant. "For breakfast," proclaimed the Colonel, "I ask only for a quart of bourbon, a pound of beefsteak, an' my ol' houn' dog." "What do you need the houn' dog for?", asked Toots. "The houn' dog," explained Colonel Archer, "eats the beefsteak."

An old moneybags latched on to a provocative blonde of 20 at Palm Beach — or could it be that she latched on to him? — married her, and brought her home to his Fifth Avenue mansion, where the butler eyed her with all the warmth and fervor of a dead codfish.

"Isn't she a humdinger?" whispered the old goat triumphantly.

"Could be, sir," ventured the butler, "but I do hate to see a man begin a full day's work so very late in the afternoon."

Proof that we can get used to anything: We haven't heard a new high-price-of-coffee joke in two weeks.

A jugged Detroit burglar told police that his admitted 61 burglaries netted him only an average of $33 per theft. Crime certainly doesn't pay — at least, not much.

Texas press photogs picked a real beauty for their "queen." A case of snap — but very excellent — judgment.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

French Explorers Find Deepest Cave

NICE, FRANCE, Aug. 18 (AP)—French cave explorers have reported discovering the deepest known natural cave in the world in the French-Italian Alps, near the Mediterranean Sea. They said it's about 4,430 feet deep.

The cave opens on the side of Mont Marguaris, 8,202 feet above sea level, making it the highest so far discovered, they said.

Most of the commercial popcorn in the United States is grown in the states of Illinoi, Iowa and Nebraska.

THE QUESTION BOX!

Q. ARE TV PROGRAMS FREE?

A. Yes, the ability to get them and how good is up to you. You decide between a built in antenna, an outside antenna installation or Cable TV. That is the part that is not free, regardless of the city you live in. The trouble is that if you spent ten thousand or even fifty thousand dollars for an antenna location in the city of Cumberland, you could not get near the variety and quality of TV reception we get on Irons Mountain. So Cable TV is the only answer in Cumberland if you want good, full coverage TV. Potomac Valley TV and its 2,500 subscribers have made it possible for you to have Cable TV at a very reasonable cost.

DEFENSE HANDICAPPED

WHAT looks like a good move to an alert defender may be just the reverse of that, since he is handicapped, in comparison to the declarer, by not knowing just what cards are on his side and what cards are against him. The declarer knows the whole story in that respect. He sees every card his side owns and can name every card of the defense. All that can ever be hidden from him is whether or not particular cards are at his right or his left. But even that he can often infer.

(Dealer: West. Vulnerability not reported.)

West	North	East	South

Pass	2 ♠	3 ♥	Pass

This deal, in a keen rubber game at Viljoenskroon, South Africa, produced a lively post mortem in which a physician naturally excelled, just as he had in the role of declarer. He was Dr. W. P. van der Merwe, who took full advantage of an opportunity afforded him by the defense.

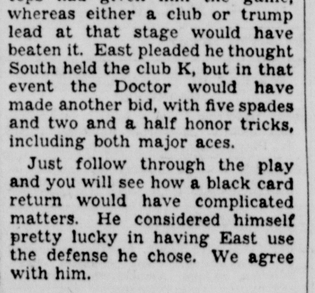

West's lead of the heart 9 brought the J and A, whereupon the declarer led the heart 3 to the 10 and Q. East decided now to try for a ruff, so scored the diamond A and K, then shifted to the heart K. That was all the break the Doctor needed. He ruffed in dummy, scored the spade K and Q, ruffed the diamond 7 with the spade 9 as East discarded a heart, removed the last trump with the A, reached dummy with the club A and used the diamond Q and 8 to discard his two losing clubs, the final trick then going to the spade 10 for a successful game.

Dr. van der Merwe told East his cashing of the two diamond tops had given him the game, whereas either a club or trump lead at that stage would have beaten it. East pleaded he thought South held the club K, but in that event the Doctor would have made another bid, with five spades and two and a half honor tricks, including both major aces.

Just follow through the play and you will see how a black card return would have complicated matters. He considered himself pretty lucky in having East use the defense he chose. We agree with him.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

Indians Blank Tigers For 8th Victory In Row

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP)—Scoring all their runs on homers by Bob Avila and Al Smith, the Cleveland Indians defeated Detroit 4-0 today for their eighth victory in a row. The shutout was the 16th victory for Early Wynn who scattered six Tiger hits.

The triumph boosted the Tribe's American League lead to 3½ games, and the second-place New York Yankees must win in Philadelphia tonight to cut the gap back to three games.

The Indians have lost only one game in their last 13 and only six out of 34 since the All-Star game recess, when their margin over the Yanks was a mere ½ game.

It was the fourth time Early had tried to win No. 16, and until Avila's homer put Cleveland ahead 1-0 in the sixth, the Tribe had failed to score a run behind Wynn in 28 innings of play.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft limited the Indians to five hits, and had allowed only one single until Avila blasted his 13th homer of the season.

Smith's homer followed a walk and Wynn's second single of the game.

The Tigers hit Wynn in each of the first four innings and got two walks from him in the fifth, but they were unable to produce a run.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP)—The New York Yankees, working hard to narrow the gap between them and the league-leading Cleveland Indians, defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 tonight. Whitey Ford, getting his 13th victory, struck out nine batters.

The victory, ninth straight for the Yankees, left the world champions three games back of the Indians, who defeated Detroit 4-0.

The Yanks made Alex Kellner a losing pitcher for the 15th time. Five of his setbacks were by the Yankees. The big lefthander has yet to beat New York.

The visitors made the seventh their big inning with Bill Skowron batting Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra home with a triple to left field.

Philadelphia's only run was made by Vic Power in the second with a double, backed up by Bill Wilson's single and Joe DeMaestri's long fly.

Turner Scores Over Andrews

Gil Cops Unanimous Verdict At Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—In a battle of savage flurries that left both fighters battered and groggy before it was over, Gil Turner tonight gained a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews and started back on his way to welterweight contention.

The 23-year-old Turner, only a mild success as a middleweight since being stopped in the 11th by champion Kid Gavilan in a 147-pound titlescrap two years ago, found a tiger in Andrews.

Seldom has a fighter absorbed such a beating in Chicago Stadium as the superior, Wis., youth and then finished so strongly.

By the last round, Andrews, also 23, blasted Turner with long rights and left hooks and had him rocking, but the Philadelphia Negro had an overwhelming margin in points.

Andrews was outweighed by one pound, 153 to 152.

Spahn Victor, 3-1

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Warren Spahn fired a five-hitter at the St. Louis Cardinals tonight as the Milwaukee Braves jumped back on the victory wagon with a 3-1 triumph, their 21st in the last 24 games.

The Pirates and Indians are the other semi-finalists in the playoffs.

All of the hits yielded by Manges in the game at Penn Avenue Field were credited to Cousins who smacked a double and two singles.

Consuegra Beats Baltimore, 4-1

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sandy Consuegra got his 15th victory the easy way tonight by pitching only the first five innings while his Chicago mates went on to expand a one-run lead into a 4-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Paul Richards yanked Consuegra with a 2-1 lead for a pinchhitter in the top of the sixth. The move failed then, but two innings later the White Sox doubled their score for the benefit of the absentee Consuegra.

Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish, meanwhile, held the Orioles down on the mound as relief.

Chicago's first three batters carried the brunt of the attack, Chico Carrasquel getting three singles, Nellie Fox a single and double, and Minnie Minoso two singles and a triple.

The Westvaco defeat enabled Moorefield's idle American Legion team to clinch the first pennant in the All-States Baseball Association. Moorefield leads by 4½ games and has three more games to play. Four games remain on the Westvaco schedule.

Frostburg, trying to overtake Cumberland in the battle for the fourth place berth, has four games on its schedule while Cumberland has three.

Harry McFarland gained the verdict over Hubert Nicol in yesterday's contest. Nicol was supplanted by Lefty Jack Brodie in the sixth inning.

McFarland yielded eight hits, fanned four and walked two. His season record is now 4-2. Nicol has won four games and lost three. The Westvaco pitchers fanned six batsmen each.

Olson, Castellani Handlers Disagree On Weigh-In Time

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—An hour's difference in proposed weigh-in times developed into a fair-sized hassle today for the 15-round title fight here Friday night between world middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson and contender Rocky Castellani.

Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, is holding out for a 10 a.m. scale balancing ceremony. Al Naiman, who pilots Castellani, wanted a noon weigh-in but will settle for 11 a.m.

"The state athletic commission will not be dictated to," bellowed local commissioner Joe Phillips. He said he would set the Friday weigh-in time tomorrow.

Naiman and his advisor, Jack Kearns, claim that an early visit to the scales will benefit the champion no end.

"Olson is having a tough time making the weight," Kearns said. "Their plan is to have him dry out Thursday night. After making the 160 pound limit, he will have plenty of time to put on more poundage."

The nationally televised bout will go on at the Cow Palace at 10 p.m. EDT.

Price Horses Win Two; Hunters Glory Payoff Is $28.60

Hurry Beacon romped home the winner of the second and returned $7.80, $4.20 and $3.20.

Hunters Glory, a winner at the Fairgo June meeting, won the fourth and rewarded backers with the handsome return of $28.60. The place price was $8.80 and the show price $6.20.

R. L. Belanger was aboard both winners.

Jim Piersall's Arm Is X-Rayed

BOSTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — Jimmy Piersall's ailing right arm was X-rayed today in an effort to determine whether the Boston Red Sox outfielder has a serious injury or just a sore throwing weapon. Results of the examination will be made known later.

Piersall was sent home from Washington last night after reporting to Manager Lou Boudreau "the arm hurts like blazes."

The strong-throwing Piersall apparently suffered an injury here Monday night in an accuracy throwing contest against the New York Giants' Willie Mays, a feature of a program preceding a benefit exhibition game.

Reports from Washington were that Boudreau is considering banning the Sox players from such contests hereafter because of the Piersall injury, on the theory that Jimmy might have put an extra, and needless strain on his arm.

Bill Campbell Wins Canadian Amateur Tests

Cherry Is Eliminated By Joseph le Blanc

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 18 (AP)—A spritely French-Canadian—Joseph le Blanc of Montreal—wrecked favorites from two nations today in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship, and completely spoiled the tournament for defending champion Don Cherry.

The 33-year-old Le Blanc—whose only claim to golfing fame was the Quebec Amateur championship in 1950—dealt a double dose of upset poison to Cherry, Wichita Falls, Tex., crooner, and to Fernando Mendez, Mexico's last hope.

Le Blanc whipped Mendez 5 and 4 in the morning, then came back to stun Cherry one up in the afternoon round over the par 70, 6,480-yard London Hunt and Country Club course.

His unexpected victory over Cherry—who left the course in a huff—overshadowed the defeat of two top-ranking Americans, Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., and Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City.

Nine Americans shot their way through the two rounds of elimination. The U. S. contingent was headed by Harvie Ward of San Francisco; Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.; Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., and Billy Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga.

Campbell, runnerup in this year's British Amateur, was a late finisher and scored victories over Glenn Gray of Edmonton, 3 and 2, and Merv Moxley of Winnipeg, 2-up.

Mt. Savage's pennant winning aggregation defeated LaVale, 6-3, and Cresaptown edged Midland, 4-3, in the opening games of the Bi-State Pony Baseball League playoffs yesterday at Mt. Savage and Midland.

Wayne "Lefty" Fleegle, an 11-1 winner during the regular league campaign, turned back LaVale with three hits and blazed the third strike past 16 as Mt. Savage romped to victory.

One of the blows yielded by Fleegle was Kenny Klosterman's third inning homer. Klosterman, who relieved Jimmy Deremer behind the plate after the latter suffered an injured finger in the first inning also collected a single to account for two of the losers' hits.

Mt. Savage led LaVale 2-1 until the fourth when Guy Martin belted a three-run homer to put the game on ice. Gale Thomas rapped a pair of singles for the winning team.

Tommy Douthitt pitched Cresaptown to victory over Midland in a game that was decided in the top of the seevnth in a timely single by Pinch-hitter Donnie Lawrence. Dick Hedrick had led off the inning with a single, advanced to second on an infield out and scored the run that broke a 3-3 deadlock when Lawrence, hitting for Stouffer, smacked a single to left field.

Hobell, losing pitcher, struck out 14, and yielded 12 hits. Dick Hedrick hit safely three times while Gary McKenzie and Jerry Cutshall had two safeties each. Spiker and L. Jenkins shared four of the eight hits yielded by Douthitt who struck out five.

Stock Market Has Mixed, Slowest Session Of Week

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — The Stock Market was thoroughly mixed today in the slowest session in more than a week.

Volume slowed to 2,390,000 shares from 2,900,000 yesterday. It was the lowest total since Aug. 10, when 2,280,000 shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 20 cents at $134.40. The utility component rose 30 cents to a new 1954 high of $65.10. But the railroad component could only muster a 10 cent increase while industrials ended unchanged.

Sperry Corp. jumped more than four points after directors decided to raise the dividend and split the stock. Then it settled back until shortly before the close when there was renewed demand. Sperry finished at 79⅞ up 5⅝ points.

Avco manufacturing was the most active issue, closing at 6 off ⅜ on 43,400 shares. Mengel up 1 at 24⅛ on 33,700 shares was fourth and Duplan Corp. up 1¾ at 12⅜ on 33,100 shares was fifth.

Rhodes Clouts Pair Of Homers As Giants Win

Maglie Scores 12th Win Over Phils, 6-2

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Dusty Rhodes, subbing for Monte Irvin in left field, walloped two home runs and drove in five runs today as Sal Maglie scattered 10 Philadelphia hits for an easy 6-2 New York Giant victory.

DUSTY RHODES
Giants

It was the seventh New York victory in seven meetings with Philadelphia at the Polo Grounds this season and it moved the Giants' first place lead to 2½ games over Brooklyn which played the Pirates in Pittsburgh tonight.

Rhodes' demonstration at the plate made Manager Leo Durocher's hunch pay off for the second straight day. In last night's 8-3 triumph, Bobby Hofman, substituting for Whitey Lockman at first base, also hammered a pair of homers, each with a man on base.

YORK BEAT THE BABE

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudy York holds the record for most home runs hit in one month. As first baseman with Detroit in 1937, York hit 18 homers during August. Babe Ruth hit 17 in September, 1927, the year he hit his record 60.

Clarksburg Loses To Seattle, 6-3, In Ruth Tourney

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — Owen Jackson, coming from shortstop in the fourth inning, pitched excellent relief ball for Seattle, Wash., to send his team into the semifinal round of the Babe Ruth League World Series with a 6-3 triumph over Clarksburg, W. Va., today at Griffith Stadium.

Jackson replaced a fast but wild lefthander, Joe Lains, who hadn't yielded a hit but walked eight. Jackson pitched three-hit ball the rest of the way and gave up one run that was unearned. He also collected two of his team's seven hits and scored twice.

The semifinals will resume Friday with Stamford, Conn., defending champs, meeting Cincinnati, O., in the opener and Seattle going against Jackson in the afterpiece.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(INS)—The world's greatest authority on fights and fighters probably never threw a punch in his life.

That, of course, would be Nat Fleischer, who as editor and writer has covered the fight beat for a little more than half a century.

In that time Nat, whose ordinary working day covers a mere 16 hours, has seen and covered hundreds of title fights all over the world and heaven only knows how many thousands of ordinary fights he has seen.

During that time he has hobnobbed with presidents and kings, princes and dictators and, perforce, thousands of gangsters and racketeers.

And in the past 50 years he has found time to write 52 books on boxing and boxers, wrestlers and wrestlin and has just completed his biggest work, entitled "50 Years At The Ringside."

He has made 28 trips to Europe, two to Asia, seven to South America and two around the world. And he has been called on to referee or judge in such widely separated spots as Germany and Canada, Spain and Costa Rica, the United States and Venezuela, Cuba and Siam.

He is shoving off tomorrow to see Olson defend his middleweight title in San Francisco and then will head for Bangkok, Siam, where he will be a judge at the Cohen - Sangkitrat featherweight title fight.

Nat has a fistic museum which couldn't be duplicated for $300,000. In his collection are 303 antique watches once owned by noted sports figures and which are insured for $37,000.

There is a large marble statue of John L. Sullivan, and the $10,000 belt Charley Mitchell got after his fight with John L. The belt is three feet long, made of gold and silver, and weighs 17½ pounds.

But to use the most interesting item is an old Roman cestus he picked up when Mussolini gave Nat permission to watch the new excavations being made in the ruins of Pompeii in 1921.

The ancient Roman gladiators fought to the death with a cestus on each hand. The cestus is an iron band two inches wide fastened over a soft felt band to protect the wearer's knuckles. That iron band contained 15 sharp brass studs about a quarter inch high and it is easy to understand how one blow could crush a man's skull.

Contrary to general belief the cestus was not made of leather. The only leather was the long strip attached to a loop in the iron band which went around the wrist.

Filter Plant Modernization Work Begins

Contract Signed With Hazelwood Company

A formal contract covering the $298,830 project was signed at City Hall yesterday morning by William A. Douglas, president of the firm, and Mayor Roy W. Eves, for the City of Cumberland.

Witnessing the ceremony were Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan.

Commissioner Edwards said the pact gives the city the right to defer some of the less urgent part of the work until money is available, since funds on hand are about $78,000 shy of the contract price.

Uncover One Unit

One of the first things to determine, officials said, is how many of the units can be taken out of service at one time, so that a work schedule can be worked out.

New electrically-powered wash water facilities will also be provided to replace the original and less efficient water turbine-operated wash water equipment.

During the work, all of the old filter materials will be replaced. Some 40 tons of graded anthracite coal will be needed for this part of the project.

Defer Equipment

Deferred from the work has been the installation of two contact basins and the mechanization of valves.

Mayor Eves said yesterday the city has received written approval from its consulting engineer, Robert T. Regester, for deferring the equipment items of the work. The schedule adopted has been worked out by Regester to provide efficent filter operations during the construction work, and without raising the cost of the total project.

Six modern filters, each with a capacity of 6,000,000 gallons of water daily, were placed into service at the plant last July.

The old filters will be reconditioned, a few at a time, to allow the plant to meet all needs, now averaging about 13,000,000 gallons a day.

When the program is completed, the plant will have a rated capacity of 18 mgd, and specifications call for the equipment to be capable of operating under a 25 per cent overload for a total of 22½ mgd.

Fire Destroys Building On C&O Canal

By the time firemen arrived at the scene the blaze had developed into a huge bonfire after the building had caved in from the flames.

Over 800 feet of hose were reported laid from a hydrant at the corner of Ohio and Offut streets. Firemen said the structure had about four rooms and no one was living in it at the time.

Cause of the blaze was unknown. Firemen said Maurice Rice, of Mary Street, had some woodcutting equipment in the immediate area, but it was not damaged. The alarm came in at 3:39 a. m. and firemen were at the scene until about 6:10 a. m.

In another fire yesterday, East Side had a call to the former Fort Cumberland Motors, Inc., 316 Frederick Street, which was leveled by flames in an early morning blaze August 3.

Workmen were using torches at the ruins in cutting steel beams, and it is believed sparks caught some wood afire in the ruins. The call came in at 9:20 a. m.

Surplus Food Distribution Set Here Today

10,558 Eligible For September

Distribution of surplus food commodities for August will be completed here today and tomorrow, with eligible persons to report at the County Garage building on Franklin Street. About 1,000 families representing about 3,400 persons are eligible.

The distribution throughout the county went off without a hitch. At Westernport, 188 families of 657 persons received surplus food. At Barton, 181 families of 550 individuals were provided. Lonaconing was represented by 342 families of 1,174 persons. Midland had 173 families of 618 people reporting.

In Frostburg, food was given to 382 families of 1,375 persons. At Eckhart, 112 families of 386 individuals turned in certificates for commodities. Mt. Savage families totaled 169, representing 636 individuals, and at Cresaptown food was given to 124 families of 485 individuals.

Yesterday, the County Commissioners received a report showing the certifications for the month of September, just completed.

The Salvation Army registered 362 families of 1,372. The Allegany County Welfare Board certified 896 families of 2,024 persons. The Associated Charities registered and certified 403 families of 1,619 people and the Red Cross registered 1,479 families totaling 5,543 people.

This makes a total, county officials noted, of 3,140 families or 10,558 individuals who will receive grants of surplus food in this county next month.

The distribution will begin on September 13 at Westernport. The distribution centers will remain the same as in past months, according to J. Walker Chapman, in charge, with two exceptions. At Mt. Savage, instead of using the fire hall, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post has consented to use of its building.

At Frostburg, St. Michael's Hall will be the distribution point instead of the fire hall.

These changes are made so that recipients can get inside, out of the rain and bad weather, while awaiting their turns to get the food.

Registrations for October will be held by the Red Cross September 1, 2 and 3, at the places previously designated.

All eligibles, under federal regulations on surplus food distribution, must register from month to month, to receive the next month's distribution.

City Playground Will Hold Party

Pine Avenue Playground will hold its annual playground party today from 2 until 6 p. m. The party will mark the official closing of the 1954 season at Pine Avenue and is open to all children registered at the playground.

A grand award will go to the youngster who has won the most ribbons for competitive events held on the playground during the year.

One of the feature events will be a penny-guessing contest. A prize will be awarded to the person who comes closest to guessing the number of pennies in a jar.

The highlight of the celebration will come at 6 p. m., when Jojacqueline Peck, playground queen, will receive her crown from Joan Leath, last year's queen.

Davis, Whitaker Get Life Terms In Sex Offenses

Jurist Terms Two Cases 'Revolting'

Terms of life imprisonment in the Maryland Penitentiary were meted out yesterday morning in Allegany County Circuit Court to two local men found guilty of statutory rape of minor children.

Victor C. Whitaker, 29, of 251 Columbia Street, and Lester W. Davis, 27, of 104 Knox Street, were ordered to the penitentiary by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Little time was taken in getting the two prisoners off to the penitentiary. After brief farewells to their wives at the County Jail, the two men were hustled into Sheriff Edward Muir's car and taken to Baltimore.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis took the pair to the penitentiary accompanied by a special deputy. While the sentences are for life, both Whitaker and Davis will be eligible for parole in 15 years.

Crime Called "Revolting"

Whitaker was convicted July 23 in Circuit Court of the statutory rape of his 11-year-old stepdaughter on criminal information from the State's Attorney's office, in which he admitted having carnal knowledge of his stepdaughter around the first of July.

Davis, also given a trial on criminal information, was convicted Monday of the statutory rape of a nine-year-old girl in Constitution Park on June 8. In referring to the two men, Judge Harris said they had committed the "most serious and revolting type of crime."

The first man to be sentenced was Davis, who could hardly stand when he was told the terms of his sentence at the end of the judge's comments.

Throughout the remarks made to him by Judge Harris, Davis, the father of four children, was unable to look up, keeping his eyes directed to the floor.

He stated:

"I consider this the most serious and revolting type of crime. A man who gains the confidence of a little female child and defiles her virtue thereby forfeits his right to circulate in society.

Outrage Average Individual

"Crimes of this nature are committed in a calculated manner which makes them more atrocious. They outrage the average individual.

"The humanity of the law feels and regrets every pain it causes, the hours of restraint it imposes. The criminal law must of necessity use evil as the means of preventing greater evil. It seeks to deter from crime by the example of punishment. This is the true and only true object.

"The criminal law restrains the liberty of the offender so that the many may walk with safety along

The visitors will include members of the Greenville Township 4-H Club and their parents. They will make the trip to the Queen City by chartered bus.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the local chamber, has arranged the tour to be taken by the Pennsylvanians. The itinerary will include a trip through the Narrows and visits to the George Washington's Headquarters, now in Riverside Park, the site of old Fort Cumberland, and other historical points of interest.

They will then go to Constitution Park for luncheon and an outing.

That evening they will attend the Cumberland Fair as guests of the Cumberland Fair Association.

Gas Rate Boost Is Opposed By City, County

People's Attorneys File Joint Brief

The Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company is not entitled to the increased rates it seeks to charge its Maryland customers, according to a joint brief filed with the Maryland Public Service Commission by Joseph Allen, PSC people's counsel, the Mayor and Council of Cumberland and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

The conclusion was drawn on the basis of evidence to eliminate the purchase of the Snee and Eberly gas field in Terra Alta from the company's base rate, the adjustment of federal income tax savings as 25 per cent and to find the cost of money alone to be 5.55 per cent and a fair and reasonable rate of return on the company's investment to be 5.75 per cent.

Difference Slight

On this basis, the protestants said, increase in rates sufficient to bridge the difference between 5.3 and 5.75 return would be justified.

This would mean that the company could increase its rates only enough to boost its net revenues by 45/100 of one per cent.

In the brief filed by Allen, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney for the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, it was charged that the increase asked by the gas company would produce a rate of return of 9.4 per cent, which company officials "did not have the temerity to urge."

Still Too High

The attorneys representing the citizens of the state, city and county conceded that if the "most favorable" view were taken with the company's purchase of the Snee and Eberly field, and if federal taxes were adjusted to only 18 per cent, present rates producing 4.2 per cent would be too low.

But they stressed that if these points were conceded, less than half of what the company asked would be needed to bring the rates to the 5.75 mark.

Principal Arguments

That the entire cost allocable to Maryland of the Terra Alta Field in Preston County, W. Va., which was purchased by the company in 1951 be eliminated from the rate base;

That if the Terra Alta cost is not entirely eliminated then no more than Maryland's allocation of the company's average annual investment in the property should be included in the base;

That as a third alternative, if neither of the first two contentions are accepted, the rate base should include no more than the actual cash payments made by the company for the Terra Alta field up to and including the average for 1953.

Other Contentions

The brief also contends the company failed to give effect to substantial items in its income statement to the following:

That the company should be credited with its legal pro rata share of income tax savings to the Columbia Gas System, Inc. (of which C&A is an affiliate) result-

Parole Violation Trial Set Today For Barton Youth

John Vincent Green, 16, of Barton, will be tried today at 10 a. m. in Allegany County Circuit Court on a parole violation charge. Judge Morgan C. Harris will hear the case, which will be held without a jury.

In February of this year Green was given a suspended sentence of five years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

He was also paroled, with the stipulation that he be of good behavior, remain under the supervision of the parole officer, and stay away from Cumberland.

Green was picked up Tuesday night by City Patrolman Harry A. Iser, who spotted the youth on Baltimore Street. He was then turned over to David M. Steele, county parole officer, but while being taken to the County Jail, made an escape.

He ran down Washington Street, where police said he snatched a woman's purse and continued out Cumberland Street, then to Mechanic, where he was again apprehended by City Police near the Narrows when he tried to thumb a ride on the city patrol wagon. During the course of his flight he lost both of his shoes.

The youth was lodged in the City Jail Tuesday night and spent last night in the county lockup, after questioning in the States Attorney's office.

Thomas N. Berry has been appointed by the court to represent Green at today's trial, while James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, will prosecute the case for the state.

Citizens Request Names Be Stricken From Petition

City officials have received a number of calls from citizens asking if it is possible to have their names removed from petitions calling for a referendum on the crosstown expressway program.

Informed sources said it was impossible to grant the request but that the petitioners were allowed to sign forms signifying their intentions.

In signing, they were told that it was not possible to strike off the names immediately, but that such requests will be given consideration.

Workers at City Hall were still busy yesterday checking the names signed to the petitions. When they have finished the task, they will report results to Mayor Roy W. Eves, who is responsible for verifying the signatures on any petitions submitted under the city's home rule legislation.

$8,500 Land Parcel Deed Filed Here

The deed for a parcel of land valued at approximately $8,500 was filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property, located on the east side of Front Street, was sold by Mr. and Mrs. William B. Dyche, this city, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McDade, also of Cumberland.

Franz Polgar, Hypnotist, To Perform Here Sept. 10

Dr. Polgar will perform at Allegany High School auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday, September 10.

The show itself will consist of three parts. The first portion consists of memory demonstrations. Dr. Polgar can meet a hundred people in rapid succession, note their names, and then offer to pay $5 to anyone whose name he forgets.

The finale and featured portion of the show is devoted to hypnotism. Dr. Polgar's favorite and most entertaining part of the show.

But, emphasizes Dr. Polgar, the conscious mind still functions during hypnosis, and therefore a subject cannot be induced to follow a hypnotic suggestion against his basic code of right and wrong.

Dr. Polgar recently hypnotized a prominent manufacturer. He told the executive he was six years old and was being scolded for being late coming home from school. The business man promptly became a convincing six-year-old.

But when Dr. Polgar gave him an I.O.U. to sign, the industrialist balked. He finally signed, but in such a scrawl that it could never be recognized as his handwriting.

Keyser Car Shops Recalls 25 Men

Twenty-five furloughed employes of the Keyser car shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company were recalled yesterday, according to F. H. Crocket, Keyser general car foreman.

Some reported yesterday and went to work immediately. There are now 236 men working in the Keyser shops. Before the furloughs began last winter, there were more than 600 men employed there.

Road In Garrett To Be Improved

The State Roads Commission will ask bids by September 7 on the overhauling of a 2.4-mile section of U.S. 219 between Glendale Road and Deep Creek Bridge in Garrett County.

Extensive surveys of the area have been completed by the SRC and specifications for the improvement project will be drawn up.

The area has become rather heavily-traveled in recent years because of the large number of summer camps located in the resort area there.

Work will include widening of the road to 24 feet, widening of the shoulders on each side, resurfacing, improving the grading, and relocating the road in some spots to eliminate or partially eliminate curves.

Fair Association Issued Beer Permit

Yesterday the Cumberland Fair Association Inc. was issued a special six-day beer license by the Allegany County Board of Liquor Commissioners, for use during the Fair August 23-28.

Meanwhile Willys L. Smelser, Robert H. Kirk, and Henry C. Convery, have applied to the Board for a one-day beer license on behalf of the Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Department Inc. for use September 11 at the Fair Grounds.

The Weather

The sun shone brightly yesterday, affording residents an ideal day. Apparently there were few umbrellas and raincoats sold. The official high temperature yesterday was 78 degrees with a low of 50 degrees. At 8:25 p.m. yesterday it was 70 degrees and humidity at 6 p.m. was 70 per cent. Forecast for today is warmer with possibility of scattered showers and thunderstorms.

Allegany County poultrymen will be urged to attend Maryland Poultry Day at the University of Maryland September 15 when Jull Hall will be dedicated on the College Park campus as the official location of the Poultry Industry Hall of Fame.

Frederick Street Work To Start Next Monday

S. T. Brotemarkle Is Contractor

The S. T. Brotemarkle Company, contractor for the half-million-dollar Frederick Street improvement project, plans to begin construction work on the project Monday, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC here.

Last week the contractor received notification from the SRC, post-dated August 16, allowing 10 calendar days from that date to begin operations on the project.

The project, which is being financed jointly by the City of Cumberland, the Bureau of Public Roads, and the SRC, will cost $517,119. The Mayor and Council, at its meeting August 9, approved payment of $250,000 to the SRC as its share of the construction cost within the city limits.

Work during the early stages of the project will consist of clearing and "grubbing" the construction area, and also removing trees which are in the way.

Also included in this work will be the installation of a storm sewer. It will begin at Linden Street and continue on out Frederick Street to the end of the construction area.

No addition construction work on the project has been planned for 1954 because of the late start the contractors will have in getting under way on the project.

Non-Segregation Poses Problems In Mineral Co.

Due to numerous difficulties of eliminating segregation in schools of Mineral County, the change to non-segregation will not become effective when the coming school term begins.

In a statement from the office of H. L. Idleman, county superintendent of schools at Keyser, it was explained that the Board of Education is working on the problem.

The board plans to continue making preparations for discontinuing segregation during the months before the 1955-56 school year starts.

The statement points out that school arrangement, number of rooms, especially in areas outside Keyser, and a shortage of both buildings and rooms have posed problems which must be worked out.

Board members believe Howard High School may have to be discontinued and there is some question about the use and adaptability of Lincoln School in Keyser, which is recognized as inadequate.

Idleman points out that the board realizes many physical changes may be called for before segregation can be abolished on a fair and sensible plan.

West Side PTA Plans Program

The executive committee of the West Side Parent Teacher Association met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman O. Coffman, McMullen Highway, and formulated plans for the coming school year.

Mrs. Coffman, president for 1954-55, announced the following committee chairmen: Mrs. James A. McMichaels, membership; Mrs. James Alfred Avirett, and Mrs. A. C. Emerick, hospitality; Glenn Kemmett, ways and means; Mrs. Richard Cook and Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt, home room mothers; Mrs. Herbert Lehr, publicity; Leo Boyd, safety, grounds and building; Mrs. John Nicklin, health and redistribution; Mrs. Samuel T. Weatherholt, music, and Mrs. William Harrison, handbook.

Mrs. Byron Bonebreak is vice president; Mrs. Bernard Renz is secretary and A. C. Emerick is treasurer.

The faculty reception will be held at the school Thursday, September 30, and the first regular PTA meeting is scheduled for October 5.

Church Jamboree Tonight At Park

Members of the Methodist Young Adult Fellowship of the Cumberland sub-district will hold a jamboree today at Constitution Park beginning at 7 p. m.

Representatives from Davis Memorial, Trinity, Fairview, Centreville, and Frostburg Methodist churches will present skits of comedy in the park amphitheatre and musical numbers will be presented by a quartet from Mt. Pleasant Methodist and a trio from Cresaptown Methodist. A prize will be awarded to the winner.

An award will also go to the church having the largest number of persons present.

Following the program a wiener roast will be held in Grove 1. In the event of rain, the jamboree will be held in the sheltered area of the park, across from Grove 1.

Works Of Tri-State Area Artists Will Be Viewed At Cumberland Fair Art Exhibition

Artists of the Tri-State area served by the City of Cumberland will be given an opportunity to display their works of art during the Greater Cumberland Fair Art Exhibition this year.

Two new departments, paintings and ceramics-enamels will be exhibited beginning Monday and continuing through next week.

Persons interested in entering the competition are asked to have their entries delivered to the Fair Grounds Jockey Club between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday.

All entries must be claimed between 1 p. m. and 5 p. m. on the last day of the Fair. A card bearing the following information must be securely attached to the back of a painting or at the base of a ceramic piece:

Name, address, title of painting or piece, whether entry is for adult or junior division, and medium used. Junior entries must list grade and school attended.

Entries must be suitably framed with wires attached ready for hanging. A total of $92.50 in prizes will be awarded.

They include: paintings, oil, watercolor, casein, tempera or pastels; adult division, $20, first prize; $15, second prize and $10; also honorable mention.

Ceramics and enamels—all types—open competition: $15, first prize; $10, second prize and $5, third prize.

The Cumberland Fair Association assumes no financial obligation for any entry, but said utmost care will be used in handling all work submitted.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (INS) — I missed Barbara Rush and Rock Hudson in Europe. I didn't get to Ireland, and when they came to London I had left. Now Barbara's home and she telephoned to tell me she's going to Mexico to see her husband, Jeff Hunter, who is there making "White Feather" for 20th Century-Fox.

Said Barbara, "I was simply shocked when I came home to find there had been rumors that Jeff and I had had trouble. Our only trouble is that we've been separated so much. It's very hard when I go on location so many miles away, and he's miles and miles away from me on his picture."

She told me that Rock Hudson won't be back until September. He's going to the film festival in Venice, as are Van Johnson and other American stars in Europe.

Dr. Clifford Loos telephoned to say au revoir. He's off for London to see his daughter, Mary Anita Sale, and to Paris to see his sister, Anita Loos. He'll have a great time with Anita — wish I could have stayed long enough to be with them.

When I saw Mary Anita and Richard Sale in London they were busily working on "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes." They're expecting Jane Russell and Jeanne Crain in September, and now Rudy Vallee leaves the strawhat circuit which he's been touring, to join the cast. His role is that of a man who 30 years ago was the hit of Broadway. Pretty good casting, eh what?

She is the star of the London company of "Sabrina Fair" and she has worked with a dramatic coach night and day to perfect herself.

All those who said that Marjorie was just a rich man's wife pursuing a hobby may have to eat their words. Her notices were very good. Marjorie was a cigarette girl at Ciro's when she met her multimillionaire husband.

Most of the studios, I find, are having a summer lull, but there was no lull, believe me, at RKO Pathe when Gordon Scott, newest of the Tarzans, found himself staring right into a lion's face after the front of the jungle king's cage came off in his hand — Gordon's, that is.

Both Gordon and the lion were scared to death and just looked at each other. "Don't be frightened," the trainer said, "he can't bite with no teeth."

"But," gasped Gordon, "he can still eat can't he!"

Imagine having your honeymoon stopped! That's what happened to Cy Howard and Gloria Grahame. They were all but on the boat headed for Honolulu when they had to call the whole thing off.

Gloria received word that she is needed back on the set of "Oklahoma!" Monday morning. She thought she had three weeks.

Cy was told he must report to Hal Wallis as associate producer for "The Paris Story," the Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis comedy.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Our Governor Goodwin Knight and his attractive bride were at Bob Dalton's for dinner. They telephoned several theaters to find out if they could see the newsreel of their wedding, and finally located one.

Heartwarming was the cocktail party given by two wonderful people, Pauline and Skeets Gallagher, to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Bea Lillie gave them their wedding and Walter Catlett, who was a guest, came to the party.

Glad to say Maureen O'Sullivan Farrow is home from the hospital, and my beautiful godchild, Mia Farrow, is getting better every day. Her attack of polio was very slight.

Susan Hayward's troubles are over at long last. Her two boys are

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

During the hot days of late summer, sleep seems more elusive than at any other time. Yet sleep is a health requirement to keep you going when the hot late-summer sunshine gives your vitality a beating.

A reorientation of your slumber habits will help you to fall asleep more easily and to sleep more restfully. Only peaceful sleep restores to their healthy state the muscles and other cellular tissues depleted by the day's activities; off-and-on slumber leaves you as tired when you get up as when you went to bed!

Try eating a lighter supper than usual. Dispense with tea or coffee if you suspect that caffeine keeps you awake . . . scientifically, it doesn't — psychologically, it may! If you can't relax all evening, at least devote a few moments to quiet relaxation before bedtime — a crossword puzzle, reading, knitting — to give nerves a chance to taper off. Next, a warm bath, a light rubdown; nothing energetic, for that will bounce you awake.

Less Disturbance

Reduce the physical disturbances as much as possible; street noises and loud-ticking clocks are annoying. Use ear plugs if there is no other way to dispense with noises and combine fresh air with a dark, sound-free room.

Put worries out of your mind by musing on pleasant topics. Ease the tension from both mind and body by lying flat on your back, doing easy arm and leg exercises in slow motion. An excellent tension remover is to imagine yourself a sack of grain; first th sack is tightly bound, then someone starts to pour the grain from the sack which is your body; as the "sack" is gradually emptied, it becomes gradually more limp, just as your body should do.

Is your bed comfortable? Your pillow? A pillow of foam latex, without lumps or sags, is more conducive to easy sleep than is a pillow so hard or so soft that it lacks proper cushioning effect.

Do's And Dont's

Many mental and physical matters affect your ability to sleep. Is your diet adequate? Are you getting enough exercise? Are you overworked? Do you allow enough hours out of every 24 for sleep? Do you go to bed at a regular time and rise at a regular hour? Are you in a good humor when you're ready to fall asleep? Are you bathed, brushed, and creamed? To get the most from your beauty sleep, you must be a sleeping beauty!

You know which of these questions should have "yes" answer, and which should be answered negatively. You're just keeping yourself awake if the negatives and positives don't add up. If they do, your slumber song can't be anything but contented.

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree — to make yours the posture ideal — to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet "YOUR POSTURE". One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

DEFENSE HANDICAPPED

WHAT looks like a good move to an alert defender may be just the reverse of that, since he is handicapped, in comparison to the declarer, by not knowing just what cards are on his side and what cards are against him. The declarer knows the whole story in that respect. He sees every card his side owns and can name every card of the defense. All that can ever be hidden from him is whether or not particular cards are at his right or his left. But even that he can often infer.

	♠ K Q 6 ♥ 10 6 ♦ Q 8 7 4 2 ♣ A J 4
♠ 8 4 ♥ 9 5 2 ♦ J 9 6 3 ♣ K 10 9 5	N W E S	♠ J 7 3 ♥ K Q J 8 4 ♦ A K ♣ Q 7 2
	♠ A 10 9 5 2 ♥ A 7 3 ♦ 10 5 ♣ 8 6 3

(Dealer: West. Vulnerability not reported.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	1 ♥	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♠	3 ♥	Pass
Pass	4 ♠

This deal, in a keen rubber game at Viljoenskroon, South Africa, produced a lively post mortem in which a physician naturally excelled, just as he had in the role of declarer. He was Dr. W. P. van der Merwe, who took full advantage of an opportunity afforded him by the defense.

West's lead of the heart 9 brought the J and A, whereupon the declarer led the heart 3 to the 10 and Q. East decided now to try for a ruff, so scored the diamond A and K, then shifted to the heart K. That was all the break the Doctor needed. He ruffed in dummy, scored the spade K and Q, ruffed the diamond 7 with the spade 9 as East discarded a heart, removed the last trump with the A, reached dummy with the club A and used the diamond Q and 8 to discard his two losing clubs, the final trick then going to the spade 10 for a successful game.

Dr. van der Merwe told East his cashing of the two diamond tops had given him the game, whereas either a club or trump lead at that stage would have beaten it. East pleaded he thought South held the club K, but in that event the Doctor would have made another bid, with five spades and two and a half honor tricks, including both major aces.

Just follow through the play and you will see how a black card return would have complicated matters. He considered himself pretty lucky in having East use the defense he chose. We agree with him.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A Q J ♥ Q 10 6 3 ♦ 10 7 5 3 2 ♣ 9

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

French Explorers Find Deepest Cave

NICE, FRANCE, Aug. 18 (AP)—French cave explorers have reported discovering the deepest known natural cave in the world in the French-Italian Alps, near the Mediterranean Sea. They said it's about 4,430 feet deep.

The cave opens on the side of Mont Marguaris, 8,202 feet above sea level, making it the highest so far discovered, they said.

THE QUESTION BOX!

Q. ARE TV PROGRAMS FREE?

A. Yes, the ability to get them and how good is up to you. You decide between a built in antenna, an outside antenna installation or Cable TV. That is the part that is not free, regardless of the city you live in. The trouble is that if you spent ten thousand or even fifty thousand dollars for an antenna location in the city of Cumberland, you could not get near the variety and quality of TV reception we get on Irons Mountain. So Cable TV is the only answer in Cumberland if you want good, full coverage TV. Potomac Valley TV and its 2,500 subscribers have made it possible for you to have Cable TV at a very reasonable cost.

Filter Plant Modernization Work Begins

Contract Signed With Hazelwood Company

A major step in the city's plans for modernizing its water facilities got under way yesterday as the George F. Hazelwood Company began to rehabilitate the original filter plant at Lake Gordon.

A formal contract covering the $298,830 project was signed at City Hall yesterday morning by William A. Douglas, president of the firm, and Mayor Roy W. Eves, for the City of Cumberland.

Witnessing the ceremony were Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan.

Commissioner Edwards said the pact gives the city the right to defer some of the less urgent part of the work until money is available, since funds on hand are about $78,000 shy of the contract price.

The firm has agreed, under a one-year option, to continue the project at the original price when funds are available.

Uncover One Unit

One of the first things to determine, officials said, is how many of the units can be taken out of service at one time, so that a work schedule can be worked out.

The contract, Edwards said, includes rehabilitating and housing 12 filters which have been in operation at the Lake Gordon plant since 1913.

New electrically-powered wash water facilities will also be provided to replace the original and less efficient water turbine-operated wash water equipment.

During the work, all of the old filter materials will be replaced. Some 40 tons of graded anthracite coal will be needed for this part of the project.

Defer Equipment

Deferred from the work has been the installation of two contact basins and the mechanization of valves.

Mayor Eves said yesterday the city has received written approval from its consulting engineer, Robert T. Regester, for deferring the equipment items of the work. The schedule adopted has been worked out by Regester to provide efficent filter operations during the construction work, and without raising the cost of the total project.

Six modern filters, each with a capacity of 6,000,000 gallons of water daily, were placed into service at the plant last July.

The old filters will be reconditioned, a few at a time, to allow the plant to meet all needs, now averaging about 13,000,000 gallons a day.

When the program is completed, the plant will have a rated capacity of 18 mgd, and specifications call for the equipment to be capable of operating under a 25 per cent overload for a total of 22½ mgd.

Surplus Food Distribution Set Here Today

10,558 Eligible For September

Distribution of surplus food commodities for August will be completed here today and tomorrow, with eligible persons to report at the County Garage building on Franklin Street. About 1,000 families representing about 3,400 persons are eligible.

The distribution throughout the county went off without a hitch. At Westernport, 188 families of 657 persons received surplus food. At Barton, 181 families of 550 individuals were provided. Lonaconing was represented by 342 families of 1,174 persons. Midland had 173 families of 618 people reporting.

In Frostburg, food was given to 382 families of 1,375 persons. At Eckhart, 112 families of 386 individuals turned in certificates for commodities. Mt. Savage families totaled 169, representing 636 individuals, and at Cresaptown food was given to 124 families of 485 individuals.

Yesterday, the County Commissioners received a report showing the certifications for the month of September, just completed.

The Salvation Army registered 362 families of 1,372. The Allegany County Welfare Board certified 896 families of 2,024 persons. The Associated Charities registered and certified 403 families of 1,619 people and the Red Cross registered 1,479 families totaling 5,543 people.

This makes a total, county officials noted, of 3,140 families or 10,558 individuals who will receive grants of surplus food in this county next month.

The distribution will begin on September 13 at Westernport. The distribution centers will remain the same as in past months, according to J. Walker Chapman, in charge, with two exceptions. At Mt. Savage, instead of using the fire hall, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post has consented to use of its building.

At Frostburg, St. Michael's Hall will be the distribution point instead of the fire hall.

These changes are made so that recipients can get inside, out of the rain and bad weather, while awaiting their turns to get the food.

Registrations for October will be held by the Red Cross September 1, 2 and 3, at the places previously designated.

All eligibles, under federal regulations on surplus food distribution, must register from month to month, to receive the next month's distribution.

Fire Destroys Building On C&O Canal

An unoccupied one-story building located at the end of Offut Street across the old C&O Canal was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning.

By the time firemen arrived at the scene the blaze had developed into a huge bonfire after the building had caved in from the flames.

Over 800 feet of hose were reported laid from a hydrant at the corner of Ohio and Offut streets. Firemen said the structure had about four rooms and no one was living in it at the time.

Cause of the blaze was unknown. Firemen said Maurice Rice, of Mary Street, had some woodcutting equipment in the immediate area, but it was not damaged. The alarm came in at 3:39 a. m. and firemen were at the scene until about 6:10 a. m.

In another fire yesterday, East Side had a call to the former Fort Cumberland Motors, Inc., 316 Frederick Street, which was leveled by flames in an early morning blaze August 3.

Workmen were using torches at the ruins in cutting steel beams, and it is believed sparks caught some wood afire in the ruins. The call came in at 9:20 a. m.

Davis, Whitaker Get Life Terms In Sex Offenses

Jurist Terms Two Cases 'Revolting'

Terms of life imprisonment in the Maryland Penitentiary were meted out yesterday morning in Allegany County Circuit Court to two local men found guilty of statutory rape of minor children.

Victor C. Whitaker, 29, of 251 Columbia Street, and Lester W. Davis, 27, of 104 Knox Street, were ordered to the penitentiary by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Little time was taken in getting the two prisoners off to the penitentiary. After brief farewells to their wives at the County Jail, the two men were hustled into Sheriff Edward Muir's car and taken to Baltimore.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis took the pair to the penitentiary accompanied by a special deputy. While the sentences are for life, both Whitaker and Davis will be eligible for parole in 15 years.

Crime Called "Revolting"

Whitaker was convicted July 23 in Circuit Court of the statutory rape of his 11-year-old stepdaughter on criminal information from the State's Attorney's office, in which he admitted having carnal knowledge of his stepdaughter around the first of July.

Davis, also given a trial on criminal information, was convicted Monday of the statutory rape of a nine-year-old girl in Constitution Park on June 8. In referring to the two men, Judge Harris said they had committed the "most serious and revolting type of crime."

The first man to be sentenced was Davis, who could hardly stand when he was told the terms of his sentence at the end of the judge's comments.

Throughout the remarks made to him by Judge Harris, Davis, the father of four children, was unable to look up, keeping his eyes directed to the floor.

Davis' wife burst into loud uncontrolled sobbing. They sat together while the Whitaker sentence was read.

Whitaker had been holding hands with his wife during the Davis remarks. His wife also broke into loud weeping when sentence was passed.

Judge Harris told Davis he had a very complete picture of the man's background from David Steele, state parole officer, and had given the case a great deal of consideration.

He stated:

"I consider this the most serious and revolting type of crime. A man who gains the confidence of a little female child and defiles her virtue thereby forfeits his right to circulate in society.

Outrage Average Individual

"Crimes of this nature are committed in a calculated manner which makes them more atrocious. They outrage the average individual.

"The humanity of the law feels and regrets every pain it causes, the hours of restraint it imposes. The criminal law must of necessity use evil as the means of preventing greater evil. It seeks to deter from crime by the example of punishment. This is the true and only true object.

"The criminal law restrains the liberty of the offender so that the many may walk with safety along

The itinerary will include a trip through the Narrows and visits to the George Washington's Headquarters, now in Riverside Park, the site of old Fort Cumberland, and other historical points of interest.

They will then go to Constitution Park for luncheon and an outing.

That evening they will attend the Cumberland Fair as guests of the Cumberland Fair Association.

Gas Rate Boost Is Opposed By City, County

People's Attorneys File Joint Brief

The Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company is not entitled to the increased rates it seeks to charge its Maryland customers, according to a joint brief filed with the Maryland Public Service Commission by Joseph Allen, PSC people's counsel, the Mayor and Council of Cumberland and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

The conclusion was drawn on the basis of evidence to eliminate the purchase of the Snee and Eberly gas field in Terra Alta from the company's base rate, the adjustment of federal income tax savings as 25 per cent and to find the cost of money alone to be 5.55 per cent and a fair and reasonable rate of return on the company's investment to be 5.75 per cent.

Difference Slight

On this basis, the protestants said, increase in rates sufficient to bridge the difference between 5.3 and 5.75 return would be justified.

This would mean that the company could increase its rates only enough to boost its net revenues by 45/100 of one per cent.

In the brief filed by Allen, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney for the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, it was charged that the increase asked by the gas company would produce a rate of return of 9.4 per cent, which company officials "did not have the temerity to urge."

Still Too High

The attorneys representing the citizens of the state, city and county conceded that if the "most favorable" view were taken with the company's purchase of the Snee and Eberly field, and if federal taxes were adjusted to only 18 per cent, present rates producing 4.2 per cent would be too low.

But they stressed that if these points were conceded, less than half of what the company asked would be needed to bring the rates to the 5.75 mark.

Principal Arguments

Among the principal arguments presented against the increase are these:

That the entire cost allocable to Maryland of the Terra Alta Field in Preston County, W. Va., which was purchased by the company in 1951 be eliminated from the rate base;

That if the Terra Alta cost is not entirely eliminated then no more than Maryland's allocation of the company's average annual investment in the property should be included in the base;

That as a third alternative, if neither of the first two contentions are accepted, the rate base should include no more than the actual cash payments made by the company for the Terra Alta field up to and including the average for 1953.

Other Contentions

The brief also contends the company failed to give effect to substantial items in its income statement to the following:

That the company should be credited with its legal pro rata share of income tax savings to the Columbia Gas System, Inc. (of which C&A is an affiliate) result-

Parole Violation Trial Set Today For Barton Youth

John Vincent Green, 16, of Barton, will be tried today at 10 a. m. in Allegany County Circuit Court on a parole violation charge. Judge Morgan C. Harris will hear the case, which will be held without a jury.

In February of this year Green was given a suspended sentence of five years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

He was also paroled, with the stipulation that he be of good behavior, remain under the supervision of the parole officer, and stay away from Cumberland.

Green was picked up Tuesday night by City Patrolman Harry A. Iser, who spotted the youth on Baltimore Street. He was then turned over to David M. Steele, county parole officer, but while being taken to the County Jail, made an escape.

He ran down Washington Street, where police said he snatched a woman's purse and continued out Cumberland Street, then to Mechanic, where he was again apprehended by City Police near the Narrows when he tried to thumb a ride on the city patrol wagon. During the course of his flight he lost both of his shoes.

The youth was lodged in the City Jail Tuesday night and spent last night in the county lockup, after questioning in the States Attorney's office.

Thomas N. Berry has been appointed by the court to represent Green at today's trial, while James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, will prosecute the case for the state.

Citizens Request Names Be Stricken From Petition

City officials have received a number of calls from citizens asking if it is possible to have their names removed from petitions calling for a referendum on the crosstown expressway program.

Two of the number have gone to City Hall and formally requested that their names be stricken off the petition.

Informed sources said it was impossible to grant the request but that the petitioners were allowed to sign forms signifying their intentions.

In signing, they were told that it was not possible to strike off the names immediately, but that such requests will be given consideration.

Workers at City Hall were still busy yesterday checking the names signed to the petitions. When they have finished the task, they will report results to Mayor Roy W. Eves, who is responsible for verifying the signatures on any petitions submitted under the city's home rule legislation.

$8,500 Land Parcel Deed Filed Here

The deed for a parcel of land valued at approximately $8,500 was filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Franz Polgar, Hypnotist, To Perform Here Sept. 10

The board of directors of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce last night approved details for the presentation of a program here by Dr. Franz Polgar, famed hypnotist, under Jaycee sponsorship.

Dr. Polgar will perform at Allegany High School auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday, September 10.

Heralded as "America's greatest one-man show" by the Saturday Evening Post, the Hungarian-born entertainer is a master of telepathy and hypnosis.

The show itself will consist of three parts. The first portion consists of memory demonstrations. Dr. Polgar can meet a hundred people in rapid succession, note their names, and then offer to pay $5 to anyone whose name he forgets.

The second part is devoted to mind-reading. Dr. Polgar asks for mental flashes from his audience, then tells them what they're thinking.

But, emphasizes Dr. Polgar, the conscious mind still functions during hypnosis, and therefore a subject cannot be induced to follow a hypnotic suggestion against his basic code of right and wrong.

Dr. Polgar recently hypnotized a prominent manufacturer. He told the executive he was six years old and was being scolded for being late coming home from school. The business man promptly became a convincing six-year-old.

But when Dr. Polgar gave him an I.O.U. to sign, the industrialist balked. He finally signed, but in such a scrawl that it could never be recognized as his handwriting.

Road In Garrett To Be Improved

The State Roads Commission will ask bids by September 7 on the overhauling of a 2.4-mile section of U.S. 219 between Glendale Road and Deep Creek Bridge in Garrett County.

Extensive surveys of the area have been completed by the SRC and specifications for the improvement project will be drawn up.

The area has become rather heavily-traveled in recent years because of the large number of summer camps located in the resort area there.

Work will include widening of the road to 24 feet, widening of the shoulders on each side, resurfacing, improving the grading, and relocating the road in some spots to eliminate or partially eliminate curves.

Frederick Street Work To Start Next Monday

S. T. Brotemarkle Is Contractor

The S. T. Brotemarkle Company, contractor for the half-million-dollar Frederick Street improvement project, plans to begin construction work on the project Monday, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC here.

Last week the contractor received notification from the SRC, post-dated August 16, allowing 10 calendar days from that date to begin operations on the project.

The project, which is being financed jointly by the City of Cumberland, the Bureau of Public Roads, and the SRC, will cost $517,119. The Mayor and Council, at its meeting August 9, approved payment of $250,000 to the SRC as its share of the construction cost within the city limits.

Work during the early stages of the project will consist of clearing and "grubbing" the construction area, and also removing trees which are in the way.

Also included in this work will be the installation of a storm sewer. It will begin at Linden Street and continue on out Frederick Street to the end of the construction area.

The contractors will also probably do some grading work during 1954.

No addition construction work on the project has been planned for 1954 because of the late start the contractors will have in getting under way on the project.

Non-Segregation Poses Problems In Mineral Co.

Due to numerous difficulties of eliminating segregation in schools of Mineral County, the change to non-segregation will not become effective when the coming school term begins.

In a statement from the office of H. L. Idleman, county superintendent of schools at Keyser, it was explained that the Board of Education is working on the problem.

The board plans to continue making preparations for discontinuing segregation during the months before the 1955-56 school year starts.

The statement points out that school arrangement, number of rooms, especially in areas outside Keyser, and a shortage of both buildings and rooms have posed problems which must be worked out.

Board members believe Howard High School may have to be discontinued and there is some question about the use and adaptability of Lincoln School in Keyser, which is recognized as inadequate.

Idleman points out that the board realizes many physical changes may be called for before segregation can be abolished on a fair and sensible plan.
